Explanation of the Articles in the Calendar.

These pages are calculated for Toronto and Quebec, and for ordinary purposes will serve with sufficient accuracy for every city in Canada.

MOON'S PHASES.—This Table gives the times for the two meridians when the moon passes the geocentric longitudes of 0°, 90°, 180° and 270° east of the sun. It gives also the times of her greatest and least distance from the earth.

TWILIGHT.—In this table are given the times at which twilight begins in the morning and ends in the evening, i. e., the times when the sun's centre is 18° below the horizon.

GREATEST ELONGATION OF THE POLE STAR.—This column gives the greatest azimuth of the Pole Star east or west from the meridian as observed at a place in latitude 45°. When the greatest elongation corresponding to any other latitude is required, the number given in the column should be corrected by means of the following table.

Degrees of Latitude	42	43	44	45	46	47	48	49	50
1st Correction for degrees	-5 58	-4 55	-2 55	0 0	+2 12	+4 32	+6 59	+9 34	+12 18
2nd Correction for each minute of latitude.....	+ 1.9	+ 2.0	+ 2.1	+ 2.2	+ 2.3	+ 2.5	+ 2.6	+ 2.7

The 1st correction for the degrees of latitude is to be subtracted from the greatest elongation given in the calendar, or added to it, according as the degrees of latitude are less or greater than 45°.

The 2nd correction, which is always additive, is found by multiplying the number given in the third line of the table by the number of minutes in the latitude.

Thus for latitude 43°20'...1st correction=	-4' 5"	2nd cor.	+ 2.0 × 20 = +40"
" " 47°40'... " "	+ 4' 32"	"	+ 2.5 × 40 = 1' 40"
" " 45°10'... " "	+ 0' 0"	"	+ 2.2 × 10 = 0' 22"

THE PLANETS.—The times of rising and setting of the five chief planets are calculated for Toronto, and are corrected for refraction. The times of culmination, although computed for the meridian of Toronto, will serve approximately for the whole of Canada. The meridian zenith distances, being designed merely to aid in finding the planets, have been given only to the nearest tenth of a degree, as seen from the latitude of Toronto.

When the planetary day is shorter than the mean solar day, and commences soon after the midnight of the preceding day, the planet will sometimes arrive a second time on the meridian before the expiration of the actual civil day. From analogous causes a planet will sometimes rise twice or set twice in the same civil day. When two culminations occur in the same day, or two risings or settings, the times of both are registered.

The times of the SUN'S RISING AND SETTING are given for the upper limb, and are corrected for refraction both for Toronto and Quebec.

The MOON'S RISING is given from full to change, and her setting from change to full.

The MOON'S MERIDIAN ZENITH DISTANCES are given to the nearest tenth of a degree for Toronto. They are not corrected for parallax or refraction.

The column SUN ON MERIDIAN gives the time that a watch should shew when the shadow of a sun dial is on the noon mark.

DECLINATION OF THE SUN AT APPARENT NOON.—This column gives the sun's declination at the instant he passes the meridian of Toronto.

MOON'S AGE.—This column shews to the nearest tenth of a day the Moon's age at Toronto Noon.

The column, MOON ON THE MERIDIAN, gives the mean time at which the moon's centre passes the meridian of Toronto.

The column, UPPER TRANSIT OF POLE STAR shews for every day the mean time at which the Pole Star makes its upper transit across the meridian of Toronto. It passes in the morning from April 8th to October 8th, and in the evening for the rest of the year.

The five last columns, although computed for Toronto, will serve with sufficient accuracy for the whole of Canada.

The time at which the lower transit of the Pole Star occurs may be found by adding 11 h. 53 m. 2 s. to the time of its preceding upper transit.

From the time of the upper transit of the pole star may be found the time of its greatest western or eastern elongation, by adding or subtracting the constants given in the annexed Table.

From the times of the upper transit of the Pole Star may be derived, with the aid of the following table, the times of culmination, and of the rising and setting of the principal fixed stars that appear above the horizon of Toronto.

Star Table.

To ascertain when any star found in the following table will be on the meridian, add the number in the left-hand column of figures to the preceding meridian transit of the pole star given in the calendar. To find the time of rising of a star, subtract the number opposite to it in the right-hand column of figures from the time of its meridian passage. For the setting of a Star, add the same number to the time of its meridian passage. Those stars marked (.....) revolve in a circle of perpetual apparition, and do not rise or set at Toronto, or at places to the north of Toronto.

Eclipses.

In the year 1858 there will be two Eclipses of the Sun, and two of the Moon.

I.—A partial Eclipse of the Moon, Feb. 27, visible in British North America.

II.—An annular Eclipse of the Sun, March 14-15, visible (as a partial one) throughout British North America.

III.—A partial Eclipse of the Moon, Aug. 23-24, invisible in Canada.

IV.—A Total Eclipse of the Sun, Sept. 6-7, invisible in Canada.

I.—PARTIAL ECLIPSE OF THE MOON, FEB. 27.

The magnitude of the Eclipse will be 0.333 on the southern limb (the Moon's diameter being =1).

The middle of the Eclipse occurs at 10h. 13.6m. Greenwich mean time, and before the Moon rises in British North America. Hence when the Moon rises its obscuration will be decreasing. The last contact of the shadow will be seen at a point on the Moon's disc 117° W. from its northern point.

The following Table shows the hour and minute, mean local time, at which the end of the Eclipse takes place at different stations.

STATIONS	Halifax.	Quebec.	Montreal.	Kingston.	Toronto.	London.	Detroit.

II.—ANNULAR ECLIPSE OF THE SUN, MARCH 14-15.

32—The Diagrams in the margin exhibit the magnitudes of the phases at sunrise, as seen from the several stations, together with their positions relative to the horizon.

This Eclipse will be visible either as an annular or as a partial one throughout Europe, in parts of Western Asia and North Western Africa, and through a large portion of North and South America.

The annular Eclipse will be visible in England at all the points situated on a line extending from Bridport to the Wash. It will be visible also in parts of Norway, Sweden, and a small portion of North Western Russia.

The annulus will be of an extremely small width, and will vanish, and thus render the eclipse total, when viewed from a point near the Island of Madeira.

Throughout Canada the Sun, on March 15, will rise partially eclipsed; but at Halifax the first contact will take place after sunrise. At Quebec and Montreal the obscuration at sunrise will be increasing; but at Kingston, Toronto, and places further west, the obscuration will be diminishing.

The position of the point of contact or of any phase is defined by the angle made with the declination circle through the Sun's centre by the radius of the disc drawn to the point of contact, or the radius that bisects the obscured portion.

The Eclipse, as seen from a point in Lat. 44°44' N. and Long. 4h. 14m. 24s. W., in or near Halifax.

The mean temperature of the year 1855 was 49°.98, or 99°.29, below the average of 16 years. This was caused by the great and continued depression in February, for which there was no adequate compensation during the rest of the year, notwithstanding that the mean temperature of every month was above the average, with the exception of February, March, June and August.

The hottest month in the year was July, and the coldest February. The climatic difference was 52°.5, which is 8°.8, above the average, and 1°.1, greater than in the preceding year.

The mean temperature of February was 15°.4, which is the lowest monthly temperature on record, except that of Feb. 1843, when the temperature of the month was 14°.5.

The lowest temperature ever recorded, -25°.4, occurred on February 6th. The lowest that ever occurred before having been on January 17, 1840, when it fell to -18°.4.

The hottest day was July 19th, with a mean temperature 79°.45; and the coldest day February 6th, when the mean temperature of the day was -14°.33. It is to be noticed that the coldest day, February 6th, was also the day in which the lowest temperature occurred. The mean temperature of the day was nearly 10° lower than that of any day ever before experienced at the Observatory.

The greatest daily range was 39°.4, and occurred on May 24th. The range of the whole year from -25°.4, on February 6th, to 92°.8, on July 19th, was 118°.2; the greatest yearly range that occurred in past years having been 111°.3, in 1846.

There have been 42 instances in which the temperatures at the hours of observation have deviated more than 20° from the normal march of temperature, the most extreme instances being at 8 A.M. on February 6th, when the temperature was 45°.7, below the normal, and at 6 A.M. on January, when the temperature was 23°.7, above it.

The most remarkable periods of continued deviation are as follows:

February	3-9	when the mean deviation was	-29°.1,
February	23-24	-20°.6,
February	26-28	-15°.3,
December	26-29	-14°.4,

The thermic anomalies make it appear that the mean temperature of every month was below that proper to the latitude of Toronto; but as the depression is, to the extent of 1°, due to the elevation of Toronto above the sea level, the temperature of each month should be increased by 1°. Even with this modification the temperature of every month was below that dependent on geographical position, excepting the temperature of July, which was, however, only 0°.25 in excess.

The highest reading of the barometer was 30.552 in., at 5 A.M. of January 8th, and the lowest 28.459 inches, at 2 P.M. of December 9th, giving a range 2.093 inches, the greatest range on record. The minimum just given, 28.459 inches, is the lowest ever registered at the Observatory.

The mean humidity of the year was 77; the greatest monthly humidity 82, having been that of January, and the least 65, that of May. Complete saturation occurred five times, viz—on February 13th, at midnight; March 15th, at 6 A.M.; June 10th, at 6 A.M.; September 21st, at midnight; and November 17th, at 10 P.M. There were besides, five instances in which the humidity fell short one per cent. only of complete saturation—on January 12th, at 10 P.M.; February 13th, at 10 P.M.; February 14th at 6 A.M.; March 13th, at midnight; and November 12th, at 10 P.M. The lowest humidity 13, was on April 27th, at 2 P.M.

The extent of sky clouded was on an average three-fifths of the whole; and for nine months the sky was on an average more than half overcast. Clouds were most prevalent in January, and least so in August.

The mean direction of the wind has been N. 62° W., with a mean velocity of 8.18 miles per hour, a velocity one-third greater than that of any other former year. This excess of mean velocity, when compared with that of former years, is to be noticed, not only with respect to the year taken as a whole, but to each month also taken separately.

The depth of rain has been 31.650 inches, which is .280 more than the average. By adding 9.9 inches, the equivalent corresponding to the 99 inches of snow that has fallen, we obtain a total fall of 41.55 inches. The greatest quantity of rain fell in September, and the least in February. The rain was distributed over 103 days, and the snow over 64, so that there have been 198 days without either rain or snow.

Frost occurred in every month but July; the latest in spring having been on June 12th, and the earliest in Autumn on August 18th. The last snow in spring was on May 8th, at noon; and the first snow in autumn on October 13th, at 8 A.M. The Indian Summer, which was not well marked, occurred from October 16th to October 26th. Toronto Bay was clear of ice on April 16th, and again crossed on foot on the 21st December.

There have been 38 thunder-storms in the year. Of these none occurred in January, February, March, November or December; 13 occurred in July; 12 were distributed through April, May and June; 13 through August, September and October. The most violent were those of April 18th, May 15th, June 21st, July 12th, 13th, and 27th, August 15th and 31st, and September 1st, 7th, 9th, and 25th.

On 204 nights the atmosphere has been suitable for the display of any aurora which might have existed; and on 46 of them auroras have been actually seen. The most remarkable were those of August 23rd and October 4th. That of October 4th was accompanied by considerable magnetic disturbance.

The year 1856, was a year of extremes. It was the coldest, the most windy, and the least rainy year of any known in the history of the Observatory, and, omitting two exceptions, one of each kind, it affords instances of the highest and lowest temperatures that have been ever recorded.

Ushered in by a day cold, keen, and of unusual brilliancy, the year commenced with the coldest and most windy January on record. The month was rainless, and showed no trace of the ordinary January thaw. February and March were more windy respectively, than any previous February and March; and with the exception of February and March, 1843, and February, 1855, they were colder than the corresponding months of all past years. These two months also, like Jan., were without rain, and it was not till the 2nd April that the first rain of the year began to fall, after an interval, quite unprecedented, of 103 days.

The Spring was backward; the ice did not wholly disappear from the Bay till the 19th April, and snow, though in a very slight quantity, fell as late as the 30th May.

July was the warmest July but one yet known. In October, a fog, remarkable for density, duration and extent, prevailed from the 19th to the 22nd inclusive, and was said to have extended from Chicago as far as Quebec. In November, the snow exceeded that of any previous November. December was marked by the coldest day and lowest temperature that ever occurred in the month of December, and by the most windy day recorded in any month whatever, in this or past years.

The mean temp. of 1856 was 42.16, which is 10.99 below the average of 17 years, and the lowest annual mean on record; the nearest approach to it having been 42.35, in 1843.

As usual, July was the warmest month in the year; its mean temperature was 69.9. July, besides being absolutely, was also relatively the warmest month in the year, estimated, that is, by the excess of its mean temperature above the standard temperature for the month, whether the standard chosen be that belonging to the parallel passing through Toronto or to Toronto itself. When considered further, with reference to past years, the mean temp. of July, 1856, was never exceeded by any monthly mean, excepting that of July, 1854, which was 72.5.

The coldest month absolutely was February, with a mean temperature of 15.99; the coldest month relatively to the standard of Toronto, was January, with a mean temperature 7.81 below the average. The warmest day was July 17, when the mean temperature was 81.77, and the coldest day was February 13, with a mean temp.—69.83.

The maximum temperature of the year, 96.6, occurred on July 17, and, with the exception of that of 23th Aug., 1854, when it reached 99.2, was higher than any temperature before known at the Observatory. The minimum of the year—18.7, on February 12, was an example of cold never exceeded but in February of the preceding year.

The range of temperature for the year, derived from these two extremes, was 115.3, one never exceeded but by that of 1855, which amounted to 118.2.

The deviations in defect from the normals and exceeding 20°, were numerous; but no example occurred of a deviation to that extent in excess.

BAROMETER.—The highest reading of the barometer was 30.480 inches, at 10.30 A.M. of December 18th, and the lowest 28.459 inches, at 11.40 A.M. of December 14, thus giving a range (the range also of the whole year) of 2.021 inches in less than 95 hours. The minimum, 28.459, was identical with that of 1855, which occurred on the 9th of Dec., and which also was followed by a considerable rise.

The mean humidity of the year, .75 of saturation, was rather less than usual, and the distribution of humidity among the different months more than ordinarily equable. Complete saturation occurred only four times—Jan. 9th, Oct. 18th, and the 11th and 14th of December. The greatest dryness was .30, which occurred at 4 P.M., of Aug. 11th.

It will be seen from the table, that the extent of sky clouded was on the average .57 of the whole sky, rather less than in the two preceding years.

The resultant direction of the wind was N. 71° W., and the resultant velocity 3.03 miles, or in other words, the actual displacement of air was that which would have been produced by a wind blowing throughout the year from N. 71° W., with a constant velocity of 3.03 miles per hour. The mean velocity of the wind, without regard to direction, was 8.31 miles per hour, a velocity exceeding the average of nine years by 2.19 miles.

The whole depth of rain that fell during the year 21.505 inches, was less by upwards of ten inches than that of 1855, and more than nine inches below the average of the last 16 years. The depth of snow was 65.5 inches, which exceeds the average by 3.6 inches, but falls short by more than 13 inches of the snow of the preceding year. The rain occupied 359.7 hours, and the snow 210.5 hours in its fall, giving 670.5 hours, or nearly 28 days, as the total duration of the fall of rain and snow.

Frost occurred in every month but in June, July and August. The latest frost in Spring was on 31st May, and the earliest frost in Autumn on Sept. 21. The last snow in Spring was on the 30th of May, and the first snow in Autumn on 30th October. The Bay of Toronto was frozen over on December 8.

Twenty-five thunder-storms only occurred during the year. The most remarkable example was that of the 4th of June, which was accompanied for a short time by a violent fall of hail with stones in many cases more than half an inch in diameter. The storm lasted, with only occasional intermission, from 10 A.M. to 10 P.M.

Of the 212 nights when the state of the sky was favorable for observing auroras, there were 35 nights only when auroras were seen, and these all belonged to the lowest class, unless that of October 4 be excepted, when the phenomenon was accompanied by considerable magnetic disturbance.

THE GREAT NORTH-WEST.

GEOGRAPHICAL POSITION.

A description of Canadian Territory as at present inhabited, would necessarily be limited to the northern boundaries of the valleys of the Great Lakes and the River St. Lawrence, with their tributaries, although the jurisdiction of the Canadian Government undoubtedly extends to other water-sheds. So, also, a description of the "Great North West," with respect to its adaptation for settlement, may for the present be confined to the valleys of the Red River of the North, the Saskatchewan, and the large Lakes to which they are tributary. The region drained by these rivers and lakes exceeds an area of 400,000 square miles, being about 1100 miles long and 400 miles broad.

That part of it included within British territory lies between the 49th and 55th parallels of latitude, and the 93rd and 115th degrees of longitude west of Greenwich, thus embracing 6 degrees of lat. and 22 of long. A European area similarly situated, east of the tenth degree of long., would comprehend very nearly the whole of England and Ireland, part of the German Ocean, the English Channel, the north-eastern corner of France, the whole of Belgium and Holland, and the greater part of the Valley of the Rhine, together with the Kingdom of Hanover.

The general surface of this extensive country is a uniform slope from the basin of Lake Winnipeg to the sources of the Saskatchewan in the Rocky Mountains. A part of that stupendous mountain range forms a natural westerly boundary to the magnificent valley under consideration; the rugged Coteau de Mis-ouri limits its southern extension; while a vast expanse of prairie country, extending to Elk and Beaver Rivers, affords no distinctive physical boundary for its northern limit.

It is drained by the two branches of the Saskatchewan, with their tributaries Battle River, Red Deer River, Bow River, and other smaller streams; also by the Red River of the North and its affluents, Mouse River and Assiniboine River. The most important lakes lie near its eastern boundary and are, the well-known Winnipeg Lake, over 230 geographical miles long by about 40 broad, and 853 above the sea level; Winnipegosis Lake and Manitoba Lake, each about one quarter of the size of Lake Winnipeg and of similar form; lastly, the Lake of the Woods, near the east boundary of the great valley, connected with Winnipeg Lake by the rocky and winding Winnipeg River, and with Rainy Lake by Rainy River.

MEANS OF ACCESS TO THE BASIN OF LAKE WINNIPEG.

The routes by which access is obtained to the great valley of Lake Winnipeg and its tributaries, follow the track of three different water-sheds, and it is extremely probable that a fourth water-shed will soon furnish a very valuable additional means of communication. First, the Hudson's Bay routes by Albany River, Moose River, and Nelson River; 2nd, the Lake Superior route through Rainy Lake and Lake of the Woods; 3rd, the Mississippi Valley route, from St. Paul's to Red River; 4th, the Missouri valley route, from near the Great Bend to Mouse River, a tributary of the Assiniboine. As it is not at all probable that the Hudson Bay routes will ever be selected as permanent means of communication between the Great Valley and Canada or the United States, further reference to them is unnecessary. The route from St. Paul's on the Mississippi to Red River is constantly travelled, and the Missouri route promises to be called into requisition soon. Hence it is proposed, first to describe these great highways, and the country through which they pass, before alluding to the Lake Superior route, by Rainy Lake and River, &c.

It will be proper here to mention that the following descriptions are drawn chiefly from the Reports of Explorations and Surveys for a Railroad Route from the Mississippi to the Pacific, published under the authority of the Secretary of War, U. S.; and from the Geological Survey of Minnesota. Iowa, &c., by Dr. D. Owen, U. S. G.; and other reliable authorities, most of which are enumerated in the body of this article, and their phraseology retained unchanged. As it is very evident that the settlement of the Lake Winnipeg Valley, will be greatly influenced in many ways by the progress of settlement about the head waters of the Mississippi and the Red River of the North, as well as on the banks of the Upper Missouri, it is highly important to be able to form an estimate of the adaptation of those regions for Agricultural pursuits, the probability of their being occupied at an early period, and the inducements which the great valley to which they form a natural highway, is likely to offer for a rapid extension of occupation far into the limits of British Territory. With this view notices of the country west of the Missouri, and the region west of the Mississippi and near the British Frontier, are adverted to in this article.

The Red River of the North takes its rise in Otter-tail Lake (Lat. 46° 24'), and Otter-tail Lake is connected with the Mississippi by Crow-wing River, Leaf River, and Leaf Lake, together with three small lakelets and connecting streamlets, or low portages between Otter-tail Lake and Leaf Lake. Red River, in making its great south bend, meanders through a boundless prairie, destitute of timber, which gradually declines in elevation until at length it forms one vast plain, level as a floor, and elevated only about one and a half to two feet above the water at its ordinary stage in June. This extensive plain occurs about 110 miles below Otter-tail Lake (Owen). It is the plateau of the Bois des Sioux, between Bois des Sioux and Shayenne Rivers, both affluents of Red River. In lat. 46° 23' 30" a belt of timber, of oak, elder, and ash, sets in and continues, with some interruption, along the banks of Red River, on one side or another, to Pembina—in lat. 49°—and beyond into British Territory. The air along Red River, from the mouth of the Pshu to the settlements, is scented during the months of June and July with the delightful perfume of wild roses, which form a thick shrubbery along its banks. In lat. 46° 41' the level of the Prairie above the river is 31 feet, due to the cutting away of the river channel by the running water. In lat. 48° 37' the Red River is about 100 yards wide. The head of the settlements on Red River commence here, and extend for 60 miles below or north. By the course of the winding stream the total distance from Otter-tail Lake to Pembina is about 520 miles.

The plateau of the Bois des Sioux is an extensive prairie, wet and marshy in spring, and in many parts covered with a few inches of water at that season of the year. The breadth of the prairie is 40 miles. It separates the waters flowing into Hudson's Bay from those flowing into the Mississippi River. Its altitude above the sea level is about 1900 feet. It is the connecting link between the valleys of the Red River of the North, navigable 400 miles for steamers with three or four feet draft, and unwatering 45,000 square miles of arable and timber land—and the Minnesota River, flowing into the Mississippi. The head of navigation of the Red River is 40 miles distant from the Minnesota River, and 110 miles from the navigable portion of the Mississippi.

The country between the Mississippi and Shayenne Rivers is a succession of undulating and level prairies, skirted with woods of various growth, and clothed everywhere with rich verdure, and almost uniformly fertile, beautiful, and inviting. At the bend of Red River the horizon is as unbroken as that of a calm sea. Lakes and streams are numerous, and water-fowl abundant. Westward from Lake Jesse to Mouse River, a distance of about 125 miles, "timber was only once met with in the ravines of some hills surrounding a small lake, about midway between the Shayenne and Mouse Rivers." (1)

Mouse River is situated in the north-western corner of Minnesota Territory. It flows into the Assiniboine River, and the lower portion of its course is for many miles through British territory. The valley of the river in Minnesota is from 10 to 20 miles broad, and is separated from the Missouri by the Coteau de Missouri, a rugged, woodless, elevated tract of great extent, and drained by rivulets which run dry in summer; vegetation is scanty on the Coteau, and of inferior character, the prickly pear and wild turnip being the most important.

The importance of Mouse River in connection with the settlement of the great valley of the Saskatchewan, cannot be over-estimated. The Missouri is navigable as high as the mouth of High Wood Creek, fifteen miles below the great falls, by steamers drawing from 18 to 20 inches of water, at all seasons of the year, when not obstructed by ice. The distance from the mouth of the Missouri to the Great Bend is about 1600 miles; to Fort Union, 1900 miles; and half way between the Great Bend and Fort Union the Coteau du Missouri separates by a few miles the waters of the Missouri from those of the Mouse.

From its mouth to the Great Bend, the Missouri admits of almost continuous settlement on its immediate banks; thence, to Fort Union, only about one-fourth could be cultivated; and above Fort Union many extensive but detached bottoms show their adaptation for small independent agricultural areas.

Steamers ascend the river to Fort Union in 42 days, and descend in 18 days. With first-class boats three or even four round trips could be made each year between the mouth and Fort Union—1900 miles, or 3800 miles for each round trip. As an emigrant route the Missouri may prove invaluable.

The average breadth of the Coteau du Missouri is from 60 to 80 miles, and its rise from 400 to 800 feet above the bed of the river. It stretches north and west into the British possessions, and serves as a dividing ridge between the waters of the Saskatchewan and the Missouri. The valley of Mouse River and that of Missouri River are connected by a Coulee, (ravine, gully), piercing the Coteau du Missouri. Mouse river is a large stream between two and three hundred miles long, flowing in a valley about 200 feet below the general level of the Prairie. Its high and steep banks are cut by Coulees extending 10 or 15 miles into the prairie. The river is navigable throughout the greater part of its course. Lignite coal, available for fuel, has been found on its banks. In a country destitute of wood, this must be an important feature.

UNFITNESS OF THE FAR WEST FOR SETTLEMENT.

The general westward progress of settlement a few miles west of the upper Missouri river is rendered impossible by the conditions of climate and soil which prevail there. "The rocky mountain region and the sterile belt east of it occupies an area about equal to ONE THIRD of the whole surface of the United States, which, with our present knowledge of the laws of nature, and their application to economical purposes, must ever remain of little value to the husbandman." (1) The progress of settlement must necessarily be up the valley of the Mississippi, and on and up the banks of the Missouri. The explorations for the Pacific Railroad and the meteorological investigations carried on under the direction of the Surgeon General of the U. S. army show conclusively that no settlement of any importance can be established over a vast extent of country, many hundred miles broad, on the eastern flank of the Rocky Mountains, and south of the Great Bend of the Missouri. Owing to the absence of rain, the apparently great rivers, the Platte, the Canadian, the Arkansas, &c., are often converted into long detached reaches or ponds during the summer months, and forbid extensive settlements even on their immediate banks. This great and important physical fact is contrary to popular opinion, which is mainly based upon an inspection of a map, and guided by the glowing but utterly erroneous descriptions which are periodically circulated about the wonderful fertility of the Far West, and its capability of sustaining a dense population.

The arid districts of the Upper Missouri are barren tracts, wholly uncultivable from various causes. (2) The arid plains between the Platte and Canadian Rivers are in great part sand-deserts, The "Sage-plains," or dry districts, with little vegetable growth except varieties of Artemisia, begin on the western border of the plains of the eastern Rocky Mountain slope, and cover much the larger portion of the whole country westward. (3) The Sterile Region on the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains begins about 500 or 600 miles west of the Mississippi, and its breadth varies from 200 to 400 miles; and it is then succeeded by the Rocky Mountain range, which, rising from an altitude of 5,200 in lat. 32°, reaches 10,000 feet in lat. 35°, and declines to 7400 feet in lat. 42° 24', and about 6000 feet in lat. 47°. Along this range isolated peaks and ridges rise into the limits of perpetual snow, in some instances attaining an elevation of 17,000 feet. The breadth of the Rocky Mountain range varies from 500 to 900 miles. The soil of the greater part of the Sterile Region is necessarily so from its composition, and where well constituted for fertility, from the absence of rain at certain seasons. The general character of extreme sterility likewise belongs to the country embraced in the mountain region. (4) The table subjoined is capable of conveying a very good idea of the great Barrier to the westward progress of settlement which lies between the Mississippi valley and the Pacific slope of the Rocky Mountains. It is extracted from a table, showing the lengths, sums of ascents and descents, &c., &c. of the several routes surveyed for a railroad from the Mississippi to the Pacific, and published in the "Explorations and Surveys" before quoted,—page 31.

This table shows that the least distance of uncultivable land through which a Railway from the Mississippi to the Pacific must pass, in the United States territory, exceeds 1,200 miles in length,—a Barrier sufficient to arrest the general progress of settlement, for very many years to come, in a course due west of the Mississippi.

The only direction which remains for extensive free soil settlement in and near the United States is NORTHWARDS, partially along the immediate banks of the Missouri, about the head-waters of the Mississippi, and towards the valleys of the Red River and the Saskatchewan. The popular impression that immense areas of land available for the purposes of agriculture, lie between the Missouri and the Rocky Mountain chain, has, as before stated, been completely refuted by the explorations and surveys for the Pacific Railroad. The now well ascertained aridity of climate and its natural consequence, sterility of soil, both combine to confirm the title of "The Great American Desert," given by the early explorers of the eastern flank of the Rocky Mountains to that extensive region of country. This important fact cannot fail to exercise a powerful influence upon the occupation of British Territory north of the 49th parallel of latitude, and on the sources from which that occupation will flow. A considerable part of the region lying between the Shayenne River (a tributary of Red River) and Mouse River (a distance of 150 miles) is, moreover, scarcely fitted for continuous settlement, owing to the absence of wood, and the constant occurrence of brackish or salt-water lakelets. In the event of the construction of the Pacific Railroad near the 49th parallel, wood for building and fuel on the proposed line of road for a distance of 400 miles, would have to be obtained from the only sources of supply on Red River and Mouse River. Dr. Owen thinks that an apparently trivial circumstance will delay the settlement of the region of the Upper Wisconsin, Chippewa, St. Croix, and Black River—thence north to Lake Superior and the British line. This is the prevalence in insufferable quantities of venomous insects in the Pineries of Northern Wisconsin, and more or less throughout the above designated region; the buffalo-gnat, the brulot, and the sand-fly, besides myriads of gigantic mosquitoes, carry on incessant war. On the other hand, the valley of the Red River, west of this region, is a vast and magnificent expanse of open country, about 700 feet,—4½ miles from Lake Traverse,—below the height of land between it and Mississippi; and for a river distance of 600 miles to Lake Winipeg its descent is only 200 feet, or about one third of a foot per mile. And “Mouse River offers greater inducements for settlement, than are to be found for a long distance on either side of it.” (1) The Grand Coulee connecting by a passage its waters with those of the Missouri, is situated within a mile or two of the national boundary.

The route from Lake Superior to the Valley of Red River, by way of the Kamanitiquia, Rainy Lake, the Lake of the Woods, and Winipeg River, lies wholly within a granitic tract; upper Silurian limestones appearing only in a body on the south-western shores of the Lake of the Woods. Kamanitiquia River (2) empties itself into Thunder Bay, near the western extremity of Lake Superior. For about ten miles it is a deep and muddy meandering stream, 300 feet broad. For about 13 miles the river is rapid to the foot of the Great Falls, 100 feet in height. The stream now maintains a westerly course for twenty miles in a straight line to Dog Lake. In this part of its course it is precipitated over a succession of heavy falls. Dog Lake is an extensive sheet of water, occupying nearly 200 square miles in area, and about 500 feet above Lake Superior. The stream here takes the name of Dog River, and passes for twenty miles through a great marsh, after which short rapids, alternating with long stretches of still water, occur for fifteen miles, as far as the tributary through which the canoe route lies towards Red River.

The upper part of the river, between its sources and Dog Lake, for the greater part of the distance passes through a vast swamp, bounded on each side by low granitic ridges, usually more or less covered with a stunted growth of evergreens and white birch. The route by the tributary before mentioned, lies through a series of lakes and their connecting streams, to Lac la Croix and Rainy Lake. From this point to the Lake of Woods, by Rainy River, there is a long stretch of navigable water, said to exceed 150 miles in length; and much of the surrounding country is described as fertile and inviting. Between Rainy Lake and Lake Winipeg the route admits of the navigation of boats of two or three tons by the Winipeg River, subject, however, to occasional portages. The chief obstacles to a commercial route from Lake Superior to Red River appear to lie east of Rainy Lake. There can be no doubt that the obstacles to boat navigation are very formidable between those points; to Dog Lake alone the rise is 500 feet above Lake Superior, in a river course of about 43 miles; the falls of Great Dog Portage (1½ mile long) have a united downfall of about 200 feet; between this Portage and the Grand Falls, a succession of falls or rapids occasion six portages, varying in length from a few yards to a mile,—the total downfall is here also about 200 feet; then follow the Grand Falls of 100 feet at one perpendicular leap. The frequency of falls and rapids throughout the whole route from Lake Superior to Lake Winipeg, may be judged of by the fact that Dr. Owen's party made over one hundred portages. The waters of the Kamanitiquia are everywhere turbid, and during the summer season so warm as to be scarcely potable. (3) These facts combined, seem to point to the construction of a road from some convenient point on Lake Superior to Rainy Lake, where available navigation may be said to commence. The valley of Rat River, whose sources are said to lie near Rainy Lake, and whose course is almost due west to Red River, does not appear to have excited the attention it deserves. It seems probable that from the circumstance of its being represented to flow in part over a limestone formation, the country on its banks would be as well adapted for a road, as the trail up the Red River to St. Paul's. The comparison between the physical features of the routes by the Mississippi Valley, the Missouri and Grand Coulee, and Lake Superior, show the necessity of opening the last named means of communication with all possible expedition, for the sake not only of establishing a connection over British territory with British settlements and a fertile valley of almost limitless extent, but more especially with a view to check the otherwise certain direction of future commerce, and the more dangerous probability of the unlicensed occupation of the country by the squatters from the south of the 49th parallel. For the purpose of obtaining accurate information on the nature of the country, in all its aspects, between Lake Superior and Red River, the expedition which has already started for that region of country, was organised by the Canadian government.

GEOLOGICAL FEATURES OF THE GREAT VALLEY OF LAKE WINIPEG.

Lake Winipeg has on its eastern shores a uniform stretch of crystalline rock, composed of gneiss, granite, and trap, &c., being a continuation of the great Laurentian formation of Canada. On its western shores are exposed the limestones of Lower Silurian age. Red River, for a few miles from its source to below its great Bend, is represented to flow over the same kind of crystalline rock; north of that point, however, it has exposed in numerous spots a continuation of the Silurian basin, whose outcrop has just been noticed as occurring on the western shores of Lake Winipeg. These Silurian limestones have been traced from Red River to near the head waters of Beaver River, being unmasked by a small part of the southern and nearly the whole of the northern branch of the Saskatchewan. On Mouse River and its tributaries, near the Coteau du Missouri, massive sandstone rocks are exposed on their banks. A very large portion of the south branch of the Saskatchewan, and the whole of Red Deer River valley, is excavated in a lignite formation. Lignite also occurs in quantity on Mouse River, and can be made available as fuel. Tertiary formations occur on the Missouri in the region about the great Bend, and constitute the rugged barrens of the Coteau du Missouri. The vast coal field of the Upper Saskatchewan, and its probable continuation towards Mouse River, cannot fail to give incalculable value to the western part of the great valley; and the navigable character of the two branches of the river which expose it, points it out as the source of supply for fuel over the woodless but fertile prairies which form such a marked feature in the physical geography of this region.

CLIMATE OF THE LAKE WINIPEG BASIN.

The question of climate, in its bearings upon agriculture north of the 46th parallel, on the American continent, appears to be limited almost altogether to the mean temperature of the season, from the middle of April to the middle of October, and to the precipitation of water in the form of rain or snow throughout the whole year. Extremes of temperature during the months when vegetable growth is arrested, do not necessarily affect many of the most important agricultural operations, or in the least degree the production of summer crops.

The custom, universally prevalent, of assigning to the season of spring the months March, April, and May, and to summer, June, July, and August, is not applicable to a large portion of the Northern States of the Union, or to British America. In the construction of isothermal lines for the seasons of the Lake Winipeg Valley, April and May should represent the spring season, June, July, and August, and some days of September, the summer season. In consequence, however, of the former division being adopted, the winter and autumn isothermals are too high,—made to penetrate into too high latitudes,—while those of spring and summer, for the same reason, descend too low. The spring isothermal of 35° (4) is represented to pass round the north shore of Lake Superior, descend to the latitude of the high table land about the head waters of Mississippi, and enter the valley of Red River about lat. 47°. Here it rises suddenly in a north-westerly direction, crosses Mouse River and the Assiniboine, up to the valley of the Saskatchewan. On the flank of the Rocky Mountains it descends abruptly towards and below the 40th parallel. The summer isothermal of 65° crosses Michigan south of lat. 45°, and gradually ascends to Fort Ripley. It touches Red River at about the 40th parallel, and follows the course of that stream in a due northerly direction for fully 4 degrees of latitude; it then pursues a westerly course along the valley of the Saskatchewan until the 110° of longitude is reached, when it descends along the flank of the Rocky Mountains to south of latitude 37°. These isothermals represent the line of mean spring and summer temperatures, according to the generally received division of spring and summer months. If, however, the month of March were thrown out altogether, and a few days of September added, to the summer the general course of these lines of equal temperature, would lie considerably to the north of the direction just described, and more fully indicate the agricultural capabilities of the region they are represented to traverse, by exhibiting,—what really exist,—higher isothermals for the agricultural seasons. The autumnal season comprises the greater part of September, October, and a few days of November; the remaining part of November to March, inclusive, represents the winter season for the area under consideration. This natural division of the Seasons is strikingly represented by the early and rapid advance of temperature in May, in the valley and prairies of the Saskatchewan; and it is also indicated in a very marked degree by the extension northwards to the same valley, between the 95° and 105° of longitude, of numerous plants, whose geographical distribution, east and west of those limits, has a much more southern climatic boundary. The limits of trees rise with the isothermal lines, and these attain a much higher elevation in the interior of British America, than on the Atlantic coast. (1) Among the causes which tend to give an elevated spring and summer temperature to the Valley of Lake Winipeg, two may be noticed which will serve to illustrate this great physical fact. The first is the comparatively low elevation of the country above the sea level. The valley of Red River, 200 miles in an air line from its mouth, is 700 feet (equal to 2½° of temp.) below the level of the table land separating it from the Mississippi; and Lake Winipeg is 950 feet (equal to 3½° of temp.) below the same region. In other words, the height of land, near the head waters of the Mississippi, is 1700 feet; the Coteau de Missouri, not less than 2200 feet; while Lake Winipeg is only 850 feet above the sea level. The second is this influence of the warm westerly winds from the Pacific Ocean, in connection with the prevailing northeast wind, which is one of the established physical phenomena of this great part of British America. It would appear, at first sight, that the (in winter and spring) snow-capped ridges of the Cascade, Blue, and Rocky Mountains would abstract so much heat from the warm westerly winds coming from the Pacific Ocean, as to neutralize their influence upon the temperature of the Saskatchewan Valley. Such, however, is not the case; and happily for the purpose of practically substantiating this apparent anomaly, we have indisputable testimony.

In the magnetical and meteorological observations at Lake Athabasca and Fort Simpson, by Col. Lefroy, R.A., we find the following important observation, in relation to the phenomena of Pacific winds affecting the climate of the Northern Regions:—

“A local phenomena of interest was observed several times at Fort Simpson, (Lat. 61° 51' 7" N.; Long. 8h. 5' 40" W.; 400 miles from Sitka, 780 from Fort Chipewyan—Fort Chipewyan is situated in lat. 58° 43' N.; long. 7h. 35' 15" W.—1,700 geo. miles from Toronto,) in the rapid rise of the temperature of the air, when the wind changed to the south-west from an easterly direction. It appeared as if the warmer air of the Pacific Ocean were transferred across the neighbouring ridges of the Rocky Mountains with little loss of its temperature.”—(Page 139.)

These observations are of great importance in the bearing they have upon the humidity of the climate of the Saskatchewan Valley. Warm air from the Pacific, loaded with moisture, passes at certain periods of the year over the whole range of the Rocky Mountains in British America and in the United States. It is an ascertained fact, however, that westerly winds from the Pacific occasion but a very small precipitation of rain or snow on the eastern flank of the Rocky Mountains, south of the Great Missouri Bend. Similar winds from the Pacific do occasion a considerable precipitation in the Saskatchewan Valley, although they have to pass over a mountain range of perhaps equal extent and altitude. Whence, then, this apparent anomaly? It probably arises from the difference in the temperature of the two regions and the direction of the prevailing winds. It is of sufficient interest to warrant further notice. In spring and summer warm westerly winds, laden with moisture, in passing over the mountain range south of, say the 45th parallel, are cooled to a certain temperature, and precipitate the greater portion of their moisture, in the form of rain or snow, upon the mountain ridges. On arriving at the eastern flank of the Rocky Mountains, their temperature rises to a degree corresponding to that of the region over which they pass, in addition to the increase due to the deposition of their moisture, in the form of rain or snow, from the conversion of latent into sensible heat; but the capacity of air for moisture is well known to be dependent upon its temperature, within certain limits,—hence the westerly Pacific winds become more and more warm and dry, as they descend the slope, until they meet the moist winds from the Gulf of Mexico passing up the Valley of the Mississippi, and over the northern regions of the Great Lakes.

Hence one reason of the remarkable aridity and consequent sterility of the eastern flank of the Rocky Mountains in the United States. In the valley of the Saskatchewan, however, the winds from the Pacific, though not so prevalent as the westerly trade winds impinging upon the vast ranges of Oregon and California—and deprived of much moisture in their passage over the Rocky Mountain range, meet with a prevailing north-easterly wind instead of a warm south-westerly wind, as in the valley of the Mississippi; hence their temperature is lessened instead of being elevated, and precipitation in the form of rain takes place. (2) The prevalence of north-easterly winds in British America is another cause of the increased amount of precipitation in the region they traverse, they probably extends as far south as lat. 55°.

The foregoing brief outline of the important relations which the great Winipeg Valley already possesses physically, and is likely to establish commercially, with Canada and the United States, embraces enough to foreshadow the interest which may be involved in its future political condition. At present it is a vast oasis of almost continental dimensions, possessing, undoubtedly, great but not well-defined resources of soil and climate, and separated from civilisation by a low broad barrier of granite hills or sterile drift ranges, not difficult to surmount, as well as by a peculiar occupation under its present lords of the soil, who, from obvious motives of interest, are not inclined to witness with favour the buffalo yielding his boundless pasture fields to the ox, or the bear and wolf giving place to the sheep and the goat.

DECIMAL CURRENCY.

By an Act of the last Session of the Provincial Parliament (20 Vic., cap. 18), it is enacted that all accounts be rendered to the Government, or any Public Office or Department in this Province, in dollars and cents, and that this Act shall take effect on and after the Thirty-first day of December, Eighteen hundred and Fifty-seven.

Consequent upon the above enactment will be the general adoption of the decimal system in all operations of trade, and as some confusion is likely to arise in reducing pence into dollars and cents, or vice versa, we give the following rules, which we trust will prove of value:—

RULE I.—Add a cipher to any given number of pence and divide by six, and the result is in cents. Example: 3s. 8d.,

or 44 pence; add a cipher gives 440, divided by six and result is 73 2-6ths. say 73 cents answer

RULE II.—Multiply any given number of cents by six and cut off the last figure, which is tenths of a penny. Example: 73 cents multiplied by six gives 438, equal to 43 pence and 8-10ths, say 44 pence, or 3s. 8d. answer.

PROB. 24.—If $f(r, t)$ denote the co-efficient of x^r in the expansion, by ascending powers of x , of $\left\{ \frac{(1+x)^n - 1}{x} \right\}^t$, then will

$$f(r, 1) - \frac{1}{2} f(r-1, 2) + \frac{1}{3} f(r-2, 3) - \dots = (-)^r \frac{n}{r+1}.$$

PROB. 25.—If $\frac{A+B+C}{abc} = \frac{A}{a} + \frac{B}{b} + \frac{C}{c}$, and, $(A+B+C)(a+b+c) = Aa + Bb + Cc$ then shall $\frac{A}{1+a^2} + \frac{B}{1+b^2} + \frac{C}{1+c^2} = 0$, and, $\frac{A}{a+\frac{1}{a}} + \frac{B}{b+\frac{1}{b}} + \frac{C}{c+\frac{1}{c}} = 0$.

✓ PROB. 26.—If three points in a parabola ($y^2=4ax$) have their ordinates the roots of the equation $y^3+2pa y^2+4qa^2 y+8ra^3=0$, the equation to the circle, which passes through the intersections of the tangents drawn to the parabola at those points, will be

$$N.73. \quad x^2 + y^2 - (q+1)ax - (r-p)ay + qa^2 = 0.$$

✓ PROB. 27.—The equation $x^2+2kxy-y^2=a^2$ in rectangular co-ordinates, k being an arbitrary constant, represents a series of rectangular hyperbolas, whose vertices lie on a lemniscate.

✓ PROB. 28.—How must a particle of given elasticity be projected from a point in the circumference of a circle so as to go round the circle by a given number of rebounds and come back to the point of projection?

✓ PROB. 29.—A vessel sailing uniformly in a straight line is chased by another which also sails uniformly, and whose motion is constantly directed towards the first. Supposing them to start in perpendicular directions, find the path described by the second vessel, and the distance sailed by it when it has overtaken the first.

✓ PROB. 30.—A luminous line of given length, every point of which is equally brilliant, shines on a point at a given distance from its centre, the point being placed first on the prolongation of the line; second, in a line through its middle point at right angles to it. Compare the intensities of the illumination at the point in the two cases.

✓ PROB. 31.—A uniform heavy chain has one-fifth of its whole length laid on a rough horizontal table (coefficient of friction = $\frac{1}{3}$), and the remainder, hanging over the edge, has its other end attached to a point, in the same horizontal plane as the table, and as far as possible distant from it, the whole chain being in a vertical plane perpendicular to the edge of the table. Given the distance from the table to the point of attachment—find the length of the catenary.

✓ PROB. 32.—A particle descends from rest towards a centre of force, varying inversely as the square of the distance, and when it has described one n th part of its original distance, the force changes to a repulsive one, varying as the distance. The forces are such that their magnitudes would be equal at the original distance of the particle. Show that the particle would never come to rest if $(n-1)^2 < 2n^2$.

✓ PROB. 33.—A uniform right cone floats in water (density 1) with axis vertical, and vertex downwards: find the angle of the cone that the metacentre may lie in the plane of flotation. Prove that such a cone will float in stable equilibrium, whether its vertex be up or down, if its density be between $\frac{27}{64}$ and $\frac{37}{64}$.

✓ PROB. 34.—A vertical right cylinder filled with fluid has its curved surface pierced with innumerable small holes. Investigate the form of the bounding surface of the issuing fluid at any instant; and also the form of the surface which envelops the former as the cylinder empties.

✓ PROB. 35.—A rigid inelastic rod is sliding down between a smooth vertical wall and a smooth horizontal plane, the motion of the rod being in a plane perpendicular to their intersection. If the lower end of the rod suddenly become hinged to the horizontal plane, examine whether its upper end will leave the wall.

ERRATUM.

In last year's issue, Problem 1 should read as follows:—

If a straight line be drawn from one corner of a square, cutting off the $(n+1)$ th part of the diagonal, it will cut off the n th part of a side; and if lines be drawn similarly from each of the other three corners, a square will be formed whose area is to that of the original square as $(n-1)^2$ to n^2+1 .

A Synopsis of an Act to make better provision for the encouragement of Agriculture, and also to provide for the promotion of Mechanical Science.

20 VIC., CHAP. XXXII.

[Assented to 10th June, 1857.]

The preamble sets forth the desirableness of promoting the development of Mechanical talent among the people of this Province, by disseminating instruction in mechanics and the kindred sciences, and by affording increased facilities for the study of Models and Apparatus; And the expediency of providing for the establishment of Central Boards of Administration in Upper and Lower Canada respectively, connected and co-operating with the Mechanics' Institutes of the several Cities, Towns and Villages in the pursuit thereof; Also the desirableness of extending encouragement to Arts and Manufactures, and stimulating the ingenuity of Mechanics and Artizans by means of prizes and distinctions, distributed and awarded on the same principle as has been already so successfully applied to the encouragement of Agriculture in this Province:

Sec. I. Enacts that from and after the passing of this Act, the Act to provide for the establishment of a Bureau of Agriculture, and to amend and consolidate the laws relating to Agriculture (16 Vic. chap. 11.) be repealed; but the Bureau of Agriculture and all Agricultural Societies, Associations and Boards of Agriculture incorporated, &c., or lawfully established under that Act, shall continue as if it were still in force, except in so far as the said Bureau, &c., may be affected by this Act.

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.

Synopsis of an Act to extend Patents for Inventions granted for one section of the Province to both sections thereof, on certain conditions.

CAP. XXXIII.

[Assented to 10th June, 1857.]

The Preamble sets forth that by the Act passed in 1849, (for Synopsis, see Almanac for 1857, page 44.) and intitled An Act to consolidate and amend the Laws of Patents for Inventions in this Province, it is provided that Patents thereafter granted should extend to the whole Province, and by the Act passed in the Session held in 1851. (for Synopsis, see also Almanac for 1857, page 45.) and intitled An Act to enable parties holding Patents for Inventions confined to one section of this Province, to obtain the extension of the same to the other section thereof, and for other purposes therein mentioned, provision is made for such extension of Patents issued for either Upper or Lower Canada before the Union thereof, to both sections of this Province; but though it was equally expedient that provision should be made for the like extension of Patents issued after the Union but before the passing of the said Act of 1849, and it appears to have been the intention of the Legislature to make such provision, yet from the wording of the said Act, it is at least doubtful whether such provision is made: Therefore,

Sec. I. Enacts that every Patent for an Invention issued after the Union of Upper and Lower Canada, but before the passing of the said Act of 1849, shall from and after the passing of this Act, and by virtue thereof, extend and apply to and throughout the whole Province of Canada, and shall be subject to all the provisions, conditions, reservations and restrictions mentioned and contained in the said Act of 1849, and the provisions thereof and of the said Act of 1851, applicable to Patents generally, shall apply to such Patents and all matters incident thereto; and any such Patent shall, as regards that section of the Province for which it was not originally granted, convey to the holder of such Patent all the privileges conferred by the said Act of 1849, for and during the remainder of the term for which such Patent was originally granted, and shall be renewable for the whole Province for the period and under the conditions prescribed in the eleventh section of the said Act of 1849: Provided always, that every person or corporation in that section of the Province to which such Patent shall extend solely by virtue of this Act, who has or shall have purchased, constructed or used within such section of the Province prior to the passing of this Act, any machine, manufacture or composition of matter included in such Patent, shall be held to possess the right to use and to vend to others to be used the specific machine, manufacture or composition of matter so actually purchased, constructed or used by him before the passing of this Act, without liability to the Patentee or other person interested in the invention for which such patent was granted, as regards such section of the Province.

MARRIAGE REGISTRY ACT.

It will be observed by the second clause of the following Act, that Clergymen or Ministers granting certificates of marriage are obliged to state whether the marriage was solemnized pursuant to Licence or publication of banns, and that in the Schedule annexed no column is devoted to the registration of this fact. Clergymen and others will do well, therefore, to record it in their Registers, as also (which is not required by the Act) the condition of the parties married, whether bachelors, spinsters, widowers or widows; this may be done simply by the addition of the initial letter of any of the above designations after the name of party married when entered. In the Marriage Registers manufactured by our publishers this additional information was contemplated, but on consultation with several legal gentlemen it was decided not to vary the form, as the Act requires the Register to be in accordance with the Schedule.

Synopsis of an Act to amend the Laws relating to the Solemnization of Matrimony in Upper Canada.

20 VICTORIA, CAP. LXVI.

[Assented to 10th June, 1857.]

The Preamble sets forth that under the laws now in force in Upper Canada, privileges are claimed with regard to the solemnization of matrimony, by the Clergymen and Ministers of certain denominations, which are partial in their character and offensive to certain other religious denominations and their Clergymen and Ministers.

Sec. I. Enacts that from and after the passing of this Act, the Ministers and Clergymen of every religious denomination in Upper Canada, duly ordained or appointed according to the rites and ceremonies of the Churches or Denominations to which they shall respectively belong, and resident in Upper Canada, shall have the right to solemnize the ceremony of Matrimony, according to the rites, ceremonies and usages of such Churches and Denominations respectively, by virtue of such ordination or appointment.

Sec. II. Enacts that every Clergyman or Minister who shall celebrate Matrimony in Upper Canada, from and after the time of the passing of this Act, shall, if required, at the time of such marriage by either of the parties thereto, give a certificate under his hand of such marriage, specifying the names of the parties married, the time, and the names of two or more persons who witnessed such marriage, and whether such marriage was solemnized pursuant to Licence or publication of banns; and for every such certificate, the Clergyman or Minister giving the same shall be entitled to ask, demand or receive from the party so requiring the same, the sum of one shilling and three pence.

Sec. III. Enacts that from and after the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, every Clergyman or Minister shall, immediately after the solemnization by him of any marriage, enter in a book to be by him kept for that purpose, which book shall be and continue to be the property of the church or denomination to which he shall belong at the time of such marriage, a true record of such marriage, embracing all the particulars set forth in the body of the schedule hereunto annexed; and on or before the first day of February, in each and every year, after the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, it shall be the duty of every such Clergyman, and he is hereby required to return a certified list according to the form, and specifying the particulars in the said schedule set forth, of all marriages by him solemnized during the year ending on the thirty-first day of December, then next preceding, to the Registrar of the County in which such marriage shall have taken place, and at the time of making such return, to pay or transmit to such Registrar the sum of five shillings for every such list; and on receipt by such Registrar of every such list, it shall be his duty to file the same among the papers of his office, and to record the same in a book to be kept by him for that purpose; and every such register, or a certified copy thereof, shall be considered, in the case of the death or absence of the witnesses to any such marriage, as a sufficient evidence thereof; and the said Registrar is hereby required to give a certified copy of any such marriage record to any person demanding the same, on the payment of the sum of two shillings and six pence; and every such Clergyman or Minister shall, before solemnizing such marriage, be entitled to ask, demand and receive, from either of the parties to such marriage, the sum of ten shillings, to enable him to pay the said sum so to be paid or transmitted by him to such Registrar, and to remunerate him the said Clergyman or Minister, for the trouble and expense attendant on the preparing and transmission of such certified list to such Registrar; and every such Clergyman or Minister who shall refuse or neglect to return such certified list as aforesaid, shall forfeit and pay for every day he shall so neglect or refuse, beyond the time respectively herein fixed for making such return, the sum of one pound, which shall be recoverable before any Magistrate of the County in which such Clergyman or Minister shall reside, with costs, and shall be applied as fines now inflicted under the Summary Convictions Acts of Upper Canada: Provided however, that nothing in this Act contained shall be construed or held to prevent the payment to the officiating Clergyman or Minister of such remuneration as the parties may see fit to make.

Sec. IV. Enacts that in the event of the death or removal of any Minister or Clergyman before making the annual return hereinbefore provided for, it shall be the duty of his successor or other person having the legal custody of the book referred to in the next preceding section of this Act, to transmit to the Registrar of the County in which any such marriage shall have taken place, a certified copy of all marriages therein recorded, in the same manner as is provided for, and subject to the same penalties for neglect or non-performance of such duty, as is mentioned in the next preceding section, and such Registrar shall record the same as if such return had been made by the Minister or Clergyman who de facto celebrated such marriage.

Sec. V. Enacts that any person not being a Clergyman or Minister of a religious denomination existing in Upper Canada, who shall solemnize or pretend to solemnize matrimony under the provisions of this Act, and any person who shall falsely personate any Clergyman or Minister for the purpose of officiating at any such ceremony, shall be guilty of misdemeanor, and shall be liable for every such offence to be imprisoned in the Provincial Penitentiary for a period not exceeding two years, or to suffer such other punishment, either by fine or imprisonment, or both, as any Court of Record having competent jurisdiction in Upper Canada shall deem meet and just; and it shall rest upon any person accused of such offence to prove the fact of his being a duly ordained or appointed Minister or Clergyman of the religious denomination to which he shall profess to belong, and that such denomination had at the time of the solemnization of such marriage a known existence in Upper Canada.

Sec. VI. Enacts that any person knowingly procuring any other person not being a Minister or Clergyman of some religious denomination existing in Upper Canada, to perform the ceremony of matrimony, or who shall knowingly aid or abet any such pretended Clergyman or Minister in performing such ceremony, shall be guilty of misdemeanour, and shall be liable to the punishment provided for in the next preceding section of this Act.

Sec. VII. Enacts that every marriage which shall be duly solemnized according to the rites, usages and customs of the Religious Society of Friends, commonly called Quakers, shall be and is hereby declared valid, and the duty imposed by the third section of this Act, upon every Minister and Clergyman, with regard to marriages solemnized by them, shall, with regard to such marriages, be performed by the Clerk or Secretary of the Society or Meeting where such marriage was solemnized, and in default of the performance of any such duty by any such Clerk or Secretary, he shall be liable to the penalty prescribed by the said third section, for default, in the case therein named.

Sec. VIII. Enacts that it shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Peace of each County or Union of Counties in Upper Canada, to procure without delay from the Queen's Printer, a sufficient number of copies of this Act to enable him to mail one to the address of each Clergyman or Minister entitled to solemnize Matrimony under the provisions of this Act, whom he shall know, or shall ascertain at any time within six months from and after the passing of this Act, to be resident in such County or Union of Counties, and to mail the same accordingly; and also from time to time to furnish all such Clergymen or Ministers on demand with the books and with printed blank forms for the lists to be used and returned by them in pursuance of this Act, and such books shall have columns and headings printed on each page thereof, according to the form of the Schedule herunto annexed, and shall, as shall also the blank forms aforesaid, be of such size and form as to admit of the necessary entries being conveniently made therein: and the cost of such books and forms, as well as of procuring and distributing copies of this Act as aforesaid, shall be borne by the Counties or Unions of Counties respectively.

Sec. IX. Enacts that Copies of this Act shall be mailed from the Office of the Provincial Secretary to the addresses of the Clerks of the Peace of the several Counties and Unions of Counties in Upper Canada respectively, as soon as conveniently may be after the passing of the same.

Sec. X. Enacts that all Acts and parts of Acts inconsistent with this Act, shall be repealed.

Sec. XI. Enacts that this Act shall apply to Upper Canada only.

MUNICIPALITIES, CANADA WEST.

In order to obtain the fullest and most correct information for this department of the Canadian Almanac, over five hundred circulars were addressed to different Municipal officers throughout the Upper Province, and the Editor begs to return sincere thanks for the very prompt attention his requests have in almost every case been complied with. In the returns from Township Municipalities he regrets to find that the circulars were not explicit enough. The column "Total Assessed Value in 1857" has been by some understood to mean exclusive of Personal property, whereas it was intended to cover the whole wealth of the Township. Again, "Amount realized by Assessment Rate, 1857" has been replied to in some cases by giving the amount realized for local purposes only, leaving out certain special rates, whereas we wished to show the total amount. It would then have appeared by our tables that any Township containing a certain number of assessed acres was worth so many dollars, and was subject to a certain amount of taxes; a comparison then of their respective values, and per centage of taxes in each individual Township, could have been easily arrived at. Another year we trust to be more perfect in this respect.

We may add that the mode of Taxation for County and Township purposes is different from that adopted by Cities, Towns and Villages. In the former the rate is levied on the total or gross assessed value; in the latter, on 6 per cent. of the total or gross assessed value, which is denominated the annual value.

NOTE.—In the foregoing compilation of County and Township Municipalities will be found, it is believed, all that is either useful or important to these corporations. The Wardens and Reeves being elective officers, are given for the past year, the elections to these offices taking place in January. Any additional information of this character can be obtained by simply addressing the Clerk of any Municipality, whose office being a permanent one, the records are always in his possession.

In the County of Haldimand a change has taken place in the office of the Clerk of the Peace, since that part of our Almanac was printed: it will be found corrected in the table of County and Judicial officers, page 70. The vacancy to this office for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, has not been supplied at the time of going to press.

In Township Municipalities, Escott is divided with Yonge, and Lansdowne with Leeds, for municipal purposes.

Maul.—Course of Instruction.—In the Eight Forms into which the College is divided, the pupils, besides being thoroughly grounded in Classics and Mathematics, receive progressive instruction in French, Drawing, Natural Philosophy, Physical Geography, English Composition and Reading, Arithmetic, Geography, Book-keeping, Writing, &c. The lowest of these eight Forms is the Preparatory, into which boys generally enter at the age of eight or nine years. The instruction in this Form is only so far classical as the rudiments of Latin are concerned,—more than two-thirds of the time being devoted to the elements of an English education. In the First; or next higher Form, a little more time is given to Latin; and in the Second the elements of Greek and Algebra are commenced. In the Third, and the Forms above it, Classics and Mathematics are gradually brought into more and more prominence,—while the branches constituting an English education are advanced with equally careful precision. Although provision is thus made for the attainment of a sound English education in what are called the Classical Forms, there is, in addition an English Department from which Classics only are excluded, the whole time being bestowed on the other subjects taught in the College. In this way U. C. College combines all the advantages of a Commercial School, with facilities for obtaining a sound Classical training, possessed by no other institution in the country. Its staff of Masters numbers thirteen in all. There are, in addition to the above, Extra, or Optional Subjects—German, which is taught by an experienced Master, a well-educated native of Germany; and Instrumental Music. A pupil may take two lessons per week in either of these subjects, or one lesson per week in both of them, for the small additional fee of five shillings per Term. It is proposed also to give Experimental Lectures on Chemistry during the ensuing year. Terms.—The Autumn Term begins Sept. 10th; Winter do., Nov. 20th; Spring do., Feby 15th; Summer do., May 1st. The College Boarding House.—The New Study is a spacious, lofty, well ventilated room, supplied with every requisite. The new Dining Hall is of equally ample dimensions. The erection of an entirely new building for these two apartments has afforded greater space for the Dormitories, which have been likewise completely remodelled and very much improved. The House is furnished with a Bath Room, and abundant facilities for outdoor exercises and amusements provided within the College bounds. The Boarding House will in future be conducted strictly as an integral part of the Institution, its disbursements paid out of, and its returns paid into the general funds. In this way it is thought that the domestic economy will be best shielded from the suspicion of interested parsimony, and the comfort and health of the Boarders in this respect secured.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS CONDUCTIVE TO LONG LIFE.—A healthy stomach generates pure blood, and pure blood is the basis of a vigorous vitality. To keep the digestive apparatus in a healthful condition and the blood free from taint, it is only necessary to purge the system occasionally with this great compound curative, which is at once a tonic, a disinfectant and an aperient. By pursuing this course, instead of the opposite one of neglecting the premonitions of nature, life may be prolonged many years beyond the period at which it would otherwise terminate. In a climate as variable and as subject to extremes of heat and cold as that of Canada, it is of the greatest importance to keep the stomach and bowels in perfect order.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—For all the external injuries to which mechanics and working-men, travellers, engineers, and others are liable, Holloway's Ointment is the surest and most rapid remedy. It relieves pain, and reduces outward inflammation when all other means fail.

THE BRITISH PERIODICALS

AND THE FARMER'S GUIDE.

GREAT REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF THE LATTER PUBLICATION.

L. SCOTT & CO., New York, continue to publish the following BRITISH PERIODICALS, viz. :—

- 1.—THE LONDON QUARTERLY (CONSERVATIVE).

- 4.—THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (LIBERAL).
- 5.—BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (TORY).

These Periodicals ably represent the three great political parties of Great Britain—Whig, Tory, and Radical; but politics forms only one feature of their character. As organs of the most profound writers on Science, Literature, Morality, and Religion, they stand—as they ever have stood—unrivalled in the world of letters, being considered indispensable to the scholar and the professional man; while to the intelligent reader of every class, they furnish a more correct and satisfactory record of the current literature of the day, throughout the world, than can be possibly obtained from any other source.

EARLY COPIES.

The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British Publishers, gives additional value to these reprints, especially during the present exciting state of European affairs, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original edition.

THE FARMER'S GUIDE

TO SCIENTIFIC AND PRACTICAL AGRICULTURE.

By HENRY STEPHENS, F.R.S., of Edinburgh, and the late J. P. NORTON, Professor of Scientific Agriculture in Yale College, New Haven. 2 vols., royal 8vo. 1000 pages, and numerous wood and steel engravings. This is confessedly the most complete work on agriculture ever published; and in order to give it a wide circulation, the Publishers have resolved to reduce the price to FIVE DOLLARS FOR THE TWO VOLUMES.

When sent by mail (post paid) to California and Oregon, the price will be $7. To every other part of the Union and to the British Provinces (post paid), $6.

This work is not the old "Book of the Farm."

Remittances for any of the above Publications should always be addressed (post paid) to the Publishers,

PAIN BANISHED. LIFE PROLONGED.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

To suffer the pains and penalties of sickness when the certain means of cure are accessible to all, is positive madness. This vegetable remedy, acting powerfully upon the causes of disease in all the fluids, nerves, and tissues of the body, expel the morbid and poisonous matter from its lurking places in the system, cleanse and purify every secretion, rebuild the shattered constitution, restore the vigor and virility of the enfeebled frame, and tend to prolong life far beyond its ordinary limits.

MILLIONS RELY ON THEM.

In every quarter of the globe, among all nations, civilized and savage, these Pills are used with equal and unvarying success. They are advertised in every printed language, and wherever commerce has penetrated, they are in continual demand.

A WONDERFUL COINCIDENCE.
ALL NATIONS OF THE SAME MIND.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

The anniversary of the introduction of Holloway's Ointment ought to be a jubilee forever. It has saved countless multitudes from disfigurement, paralysis, mutilation, agony and death. Starting from the surface to which it is applied, its healing beam finds its way through every coating and lincament of the body, to the very source and basis of all eruptive, ulcerous, tumorous, and cancerous diseases. It extinguishes the febrile principle, that feeds them, and the outward symptoms fade, heal, and pass away with a rapidity incredible to those who have not witnessed it.

SCROFULOUS ERUPTIONS AND ULCERS.

The poison of scrofula has never been neutralised nor expelled by any of the remedies of the Pharmacopœia. The Sore ANTHROPE to this virulent and destructive element, is Holloway's Ointment. MARRAS & BROSSE, the great French and English surgeons, do not deny on dispute this great fact. There is no form of scrofula that may not be controlled by this balsamic remedy.

INFLAMMATION OF THE SKIN.

All rashes and ordinary eruptions, as well as ERYSIPELAS, ACNE, RINGWORM, CARRABUNCLES, SCALD HEAD, SALT RHEUM, LEPROSY, PRICKLY HEAT, &c., are removed by a few brisk applications of the Ointment.

ACCIDENTAL INJURIES.

WOUNDS, SPRAINS, BRUISES, SCALDS, and BURNS, are immediately relieved by its application. The inflammation quickly subsides, fever and lockjaw are prevented, and under a persevering use of the preparation, the process of healing is soon accomplished.

CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine throughout the United States and the civilized world, in pots at 25 cents, 63 cents, and $1 each.

There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

They are happy to state that they are now in a position to execute orders in every department of their Establishment in a style which cannot be surpassed; they have introduced the latest improvements in Machinery, have employed the best workmen, and are confident of giving entire satisfaction to all who may favour them with their commands.

They would especially invite attention to their facilities for executing

LITHOGRAPHIC WORK,

As Bankers' Cheques, Debentures, Plans, Invoices, &c.; the excellence of this style of Work, combined with its cheapness, has caused a considerably increased demand, to meet this M. & Co. have added largely to their plant, and can now execute orders to any extent at the shortest notice.

The Act of last Session requiring all Accounts to be rendered to the Government in Dollars and Cents, having been followed by a resolution on the part of the Banks to adopt the same system, will doubtless cause a large demand for that style of Blank Books. M. & Co. have, in view of this, prepared a large Stock of Ledgers, Journals, Cash Books, Day Books, &c., to which they respectfully invite attention. "GET THE BEST."
WEBSTER'S QUARTO DICTIONARY, UNABRIDGED.

SOLD BY ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Published by G. & C. MERRIAM, Springfield, Mass.

From DANIEL WEBSTER.

I possess many Dictionaries, and of most of the learned and cultivated languages, ancient and modern; but I never feel that I am entirely armed and equipped, in this respect, without Dr. Webster at command.

Daniel Webster

From RUFUS CHOATE.

MESSES. G. & C. MERRIAM, Gentlemen: I have just had the honor of receiving the noble volume in which you, and the great lexicographer, and the accomplished reviser, unite your labors to "bid the language live." I accept it with the highest pride and pleasure, and beg to adopt, in its utmost strength and extent, the testimonial of Daniel Webster.

Rufus Choate

From JOHN C. SPENCER.

Unquestionably the very best Dictionary of our language extant. Its great accuracy in the definition and derivation of words gives it an authority that no other work on the subject possesses. It is constantly cited and relied on in our courts of justice, in our legislative bodies, and in public discussions, as entirely conclusive.

John C. Spencer

From ELIHU BURRITT.

Webster's great Dictionary may be regarded as bearing the same relation to the English language which Newton's Principia does to the sublime science of Natural Philosophy.

Elihu Burritt

From Rev. Dr. HUNTINGTON, of Harvard University.

We are more than ever impressed with its great compass and value. No student, as it appears to us, has access to the needful resources for understanding or using our native tongue, who does not keep this vast and rich repository of philological labor and learning at his side. Its definitions, — now almost universally acknowledged to be unrivaled for completeness, accuracy, and the avoidance of mere synonyms, — together with some of its other features, render it indispensable in every library and at every writing desk.

F. D. HUNTINGTON.

From Prof. PHELPS, Theol. Sem., Andover.

His work fills a place in our literature which is occupied by no other. No professional man can afford to dispense with it if he aims at sound scholarship in his knowledge of the English tongue.

AUSTIN PHELPS.

From Hon. A. SMYTH, State Superintendent
 Elect of Schools of Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., February 20, 1854.

Being from conviction a Webster man. A. SMYTH.

From President HOPKINS, Williams College.

There is no American scholar who does not feel proud of the labors of Dr. Webster, as the pioneer of Lexicography on this continent, and who will not readily admit the great and distinctive merits of his Dictionary.

Mark Hopkins

From JOHN G. WHITTIER.

The best and safest guide of the students of our language.

John G. Whittier

From FITZ GREENE HALLECK.

Of the book itself I hear but one opinion from all around me, and do but echo the universal voice in expressing my approval of its great worth, and my belief that it has rendered any further research, or even improvement in our time, unnecessary in its department of instruction.

Fitz Greene Halleck

From JOHN G. SAXE.

BURLINGTON, VT., March 20, 1856.

I am one of those who have always been proud of Mr. Webster as a learned Philologist. By his labors as a Lexicographer, he has done more than all our writers to give character and nationality to American literature. In no respect can his Dictionary be regarded as deficient, while in the department of Etymology — the only part of a lexicon requiring great labor and profound erudition — he is, by common confession of scholars, without a rival either in this country or in Europe.

JOHN G. SAXE.

From Prof. PARK, Theol. Sem., Andover.

I regard the Unabridged edition of Dr. Webster's Dictionary as indispensable for the library of every American or English student.

EDWARDS A. PARK.

November 3, 1856.

From Prof. MARTIN, New York University.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY, June 16, 1856.

Having been myself very scrupulous about pronunciation, I was somewhat disappointed with a few of the peculiarities of his earlier editions, but of this last I can speak with almost an absolute approval. In matters of definition and etymology, Webster is, of course, above all criticism and beyond all comparison.

DR. HOOFLAND'S CELEBRATED GERMAN BITTERS

PREPARED BY DR. C. M. JACKSON, PHILADELPHIA, PA.,

WILL effectually cure LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, JAUNDICE, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver or Stomach.

Such as Constipation, Inward Piles, Fulness or Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots of Webs before the Sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The proprietor, in calling the attention of the public to this preparation, does so with a feeling of the utmost confidence in its virtues and adaptation to the diseases for which it is recommended.

It is no new and untried article, but one that has stood the test of a ten years' trial before the American people, and its reputation and sale is unrivalled by any similar preparations extant. The testimony in its favour given by the most prominent and well-known Physicians and Individuals in all parts of the country is immense, and a careful perusal of the Almanac published annually by the proprietor, and to be had gratis of any of his Agents, cannot but satisfy the most sceptical that this remedy is really deserving the great celebrity it has obtained.

Derangements of the Liver and Stomach, Are sources of insanity. From disorder or obstruction, a morbid action of the sympathetic and other nerves follows, and the functions of the brain are impaired and deranged; derangement there will also produce diseases of the heart, skin, lungs and kidneys. It is owing to the same cause that thousands died with Cholera, Bilious or Yellow Fever, and that most baneful disease, Consumption.

The general want of success in treating diseases of the liver and stomach, has not been a deficiency of pathological knowledge of their functions, but of a suitable compound that would act upon the disease and all the sympathetic affections. That has been gained in these Bitters; and they can be used by persons with the most delicate stomach with perfect safety, as they at no time debilitate the patient, but give strength and increase the nervous energy. They can be taken at all times, and under all circumstances. No ordinary exposure will prevent them having a salutary effect, and no bad effect can result from an over-dose.

If patients will persevere in the use of this remedy, and use it strictly according to directions, it will cure the foregoing diseases in every instance, if not beyond the power of medicine; it has caused many to enjoy the blessing of renewed health, and in many desperate and abandoned cases a perfect and radical cure.

Persons advanced in Life,

And feeling the hand of Time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of the Bitters an Elixir that will instil new life into their veins; restore, in a measure, the energy and ardor of more youthful days; build up their shrunken frames, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

It is a well-established fact, that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health, or, to use their own expression, "never feel well;" they are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite. To this class of invalids, these Bitters are especially recommended. Their peculiar tonic and invigorating properties render them invaluable in such cases.

Persons visiting districts harassed annually with Fever and Ague, or any Fever of a Bilious nature, will find that by the timely use of one or two bottles, they will not in one instance take the disease, as the Bitters will renovate and strengthen the system, and carry the Bile off in its natural channel. Prevention is better than cure.

They are entirely Vegetable,

And free from Alcoholic Stimulant, and all injurious ingredients; are pleasant in taste and smell, mild in their operation, will expel all morbid secretions from the body, give bloom to the palid cheek, and health and vigour to the frame. Price, 75 cents per bottle.

Principal Office, No. 96, Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

READ THE TESTIMONY.

ASTONISHING CURE WITH ONLY ONE BOTTLE.

Jos. B. Hall & Co. say:

Presque Isle, Aroostoke Co., Me., April 24, 1854.

"We herewith send you a certificate of a cure performed by the use of only one bottle of the German Bitters; we think Mr. Clark to be a man of veracity, and have no doubt of the truth of his story."

Messrs. Jos. B. Hall & Co.—Gentlemen—In answer to your inquiries, I will state that my daughter, aged about 16 years, has been complaining of a pain in her side for six or seven years, and about the 1st of January last, was taken down and confined to her bed. The pain in her side was very severe, besides being troubled with pains between her shoulders and in her breast. From reading a number of cures performed by "Hooiland's German Bitters," I was induced to try it in her case, and sent to your store and purchased one bottle. She had taken it but a few days when she began to improve, and now after taking one bottle, she is enjoying better health than she has for years. She feels no pain in her side or in any part of her body, and attributes her cure entirely to the German Bitters. WM. CLARKE, Salmon Brook, Aroostoke Co., Me.

IS NOT THE FOLLOWING CONCLUSIVE?

Haverhill, Mass., Feb. 7, 1857.

Dr. C. M. Jackson.—Dear Sir—We herewith enclose you a certificate, from our Mr. Emerson, in favour of your valuable Bitters, which you are at liberty to use as you deem expedient. It is the first certificate for a similar purpose that has ever been issued from this establishment, but in the present case, we are prompted by duty.

Truly yours,

EMERSON & HOWE.

CERTIFICATE OF CHARLES E. EMERSON.

Haverhill, Mass., Feb. 7, 1857.

Dear Sir—Permit me the pleasure of stating to you that gratification I have in vinding, and the universal favour Hooiland's German Bitters meet with, by nearly every person, who has had occasion to test their virtues in this vicinity. This Establishment has had the Agency of your medicine since 1853, and I can safely say, there has been no remedy placed before the public, within the scope of my knowledge, that has met so much general favour, and so worthily as the German Bitters. I have no hesitation in recommending them to our customers, suffering with diseases for which they are appropriate, feeling confident from past experience that they will do all, and even more, than is promised of them. In Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint defy an equal. To Druggists I can recommend them as safe investment, and to the public as a truly worthy remedy.

Very truly, yours,

CHAS. B. EMERSON.

THIS Association, founded in 1838, has twice received the approval and sanction of the Government—when Incorporated by Royal Charter, and afterwards when further empowered by a special Act of Parliament. For some years the average number of new entrants has exceeded ONE THOUSAND per annum, being a rate of increase which has been rarely attained by any Life Office. During last year, ending April, 1857, 1158 persons joined the institution, assuring their lives for £582,000 Sterling.

The Policy holders are entirely free from the risks of partnership, and the Sums Assured are guaranteed. In addition to the large accumulated and constantly increasing Funds, and the Annual Income of £125,000, Sterling, there is a Guarantee Fund or Capital of £400,000, Sterling, the Subscribers to which bear the whole responsibility.

The ASSOCIATION was constituted with the view of reducing the expense of Life Assurance to the lowest scale consistent with security, and has been eminently successful in attaining that object—principally by the simple, safe and equitable system of dividing the surplus or profits. A share of the profit is annually allocated to each Policy holder of five years' standing, and is handed to him in money on the payment of his next Annual Premium. A large reduction of the Premium is thereby effected. Accordingly, Policy-holders of the first series, in consequence of their participating in profits, are at present required to pay only 13s. per £1 of their premiums. The Association have allocated profits in every year since 1845.

BOARDS OF MANAGEMENT are now (Sept. 1857) being formed at MONTREAL and TORONTO, with AGENCIES in most of the Towns throughout Canada.

Explanation of the Articles in the Calendar.

These pages are calculated for Toronto and Quebec, and for ordinary purposes will serve with sufficient accuracy for every city in Canada.

MOON'S PHASES.—This Table gives the times for the two meridians when the moon passes the geocentric longitudes of 0°, 90°, 180° and 270° east of the sun. It gives also the times of her greatest and least distance from the earth.

TWILIGHT.—In this table are given the times at which twilight begins in the morning and ends in the evening, i. e., the times when the sun's centre is 18° below the horizon.

GREATEST ELONGATION OF THE POLE STAR.—This column gives the greatest azimuth of the Pole Star east or west from the meridian as observed at a place in latitude 45°. When the greatest elongation corresponding to any other latitude is required, the number given in the column should be corrected by means of the following table.

Degrees of Latitude.....	42	43	44	45	46	47	48	49	50
1st Correction for Degrees.....	-5 58	-4 5	-2 5	0 0	+2 12	+4 32	+6 59	+9 34	+12 18
2nd Correction for each minute of latitude.....	+ 1 9	+ 2 0	+ 2 1	+ 2 2	+ 2 3	+ 2 5	+ 2 6	+ 2 7

The 1st correction for the degrees of latitude is to be subtracted from the greatest elongation given in the calendar, or added to it, according as the degrees of latitude are less or greater than 45°.

The 2nd correction, which is always additive, is found by multiplying the number given in the third line of the table by the number of minutes in the latitude.

Thus for latitude 43° 20'...1st correction = - 4' 5"	2nd correction + 2.0 × 20 = + 40"
" " 47° 40'... " " + 4' 32"	" " + 2.5 × 40 = 1' 40"
" " 45° 10'... " " + 0' 0"	" " + 2.2 × 10 = 0' 22"

THE PLANETS.—The times of rising and setting of the five chief planets are calculated for Toronto, and are corrected for refraction. The times of culmination, although computed for the meridian of Toronto, will serve approximately for the whole of Canada. The meridian zenith distances, being designed merely to aid in finding the planets, have been given only to the nearest tenth of a degree, as seen from the latitude of Toronto.

When the planetary day is shorter than the mean solar day, and commences soon after the midnight of the preceding day, the planet will sometimes arrive a second time on the meridian before the expiration of the actual civil day. From analogous causes a planet will sometimes rise twice or set twice in the same civil day. When two culminations occur in the same day, or two risings or settings, the times of both are registered.

The times of the SUN'S RISING AND SETTING are given for the upper limb, and are corrected for refraction both for Toronto and Quebec.

The MOON'S RISING is given from full to change, and her setting from change to full.

The MOON'S MERIDIAN ZENITH DISTANCES are given to the nearest tenth of a degree for Toronto. They are not corrected for parallax or refraction.

The column SUN ON MERIDIAN gives the time that a watch should shew when the shadow of a sun dial is on the noon mark.

DECLINATION OF THE SUN AT APPARENT NOON.—This column gives the sun's declination at the instant he passes the meridian of Toronto.

MOON'S AGE.—This column shews to the nearest tenth of a day the Moon's age at Toronto Noon.

The column, MOON ON THE MERIDIAN, gives the mean time at which the moon's centre passes the meridian of Toronto.

The column, UPPER TRANSIT OF POLE STAR shows for every day the mean time at which the Pole Star makes its upper transit across the meridian of Toronto. It passes in the morning from April 9th to October 8th, and in the evening for the rest of the year.

The five last columns, although computed for Toronto, will serve with sufficient accuracy for the whole of Canada.

The time at which the lower transit of the Pole Star occurs may be found by adding 11 h. 53 m. 2 s. to the time of its preceding upper transit.

From the time of the upper transit of the pole star may be found the time of its greatest western or eastern elongation, by adding or subtracting the constants given in the annexed Table.

From the times of the upper transit of the Pole Star may be derived, with the aid of the following table, the times of culmination, and of the rising and setting of the principal fixed stars that appear above the horizon of Toronto.

Star Table.

To ascertain when any star found in the following table will be on the meridian, add the number in the left-hand column of figures to the preceding meridian transit of the pole star given in the calendar. To find the time of rising of a star, subtract the number opposite to it in the right-hand column of figures from the time of its meridian passage. For the setting of a star, add the same number to the time of its meridian passage. Those stars marked (.....) revolve in a circle of perpetual apparition, and do not rise or set at Toronto, or at places to the north of Toronto.

TABLE.

Shewing the Illuminated Portion of the Discs of Venus and Mars.

The numbers given in this table represent the width of the illuminated portion of the Discs measured along the diameter that divides the illuminated portion symmetrically—the apparent diameters of the planets being considered as unity.

Eclipses.

In the year 1859 there will be four Eclipses of the Sun, and two of the Moon.

- I.—A partial Eclipse of the Sun, Feb. 2, invisible in Canada
- II.—A total Eclipse of the Moon, Feb. 16-17, visible in "
- III.—A partial Eclipse of the Sun, Mar. 4, invisible in "
- IV.—A partial Eclipse of the Sun, July 29, vis. in Canada.
- V.—A total Eclipse of the Moon, Aug. 13, invisible in "
- VI.—A partial Eclipse of the Sun, Aug. 27, invisible in "

I.—PARTIAL ECLIPSE OF THE SUN, FEB. 2.

This Eclipse will be visible only in a small portion of the Southern Ocean, above the parallel of lat 55° S. Magnitude of the greatest phase = 0.012, the diameter of the Sun being unity.

II.—TOTAL ECLIPSE OF THE MOON, FEBRUARY 16-17.

The first contact with the shadow occurs at 121° from the northernmost point of the Moon's limb towards the East. Magnitude of the Eclipse (Moon's diameter = 1) = 1.693. Duration of total Phase, 1h. 37m. nearly.

Interval between first and last contact of Moon with shadow, 3h. 32m.

Do. do. do. with Penumbra, 5h. 24m.

The following Table shows the hour and minute, civil local time, at which the different phases commence at certain stations on the morning of February 17th.

The termination of the different phases will not be visible at the Stations named above, as the Moon will at each of them set totally eclipsed.

III.—PARTIAL ECLIPSE OF THE SUN, March 4.

This Eclipse will be visible in parts of the North Pacific, North-West America, Siberia, and the Arctic Ocean. Magnitude of greatest phase = 0.249 (Sun's diameter = 1).

IV.—PARTIAL ECLIPSE OF THE SUN, July 20.

The Eclipse will be first seen at 8h. 27m. Greenwich mean time, from a point in Northern Asia—lat. 66° 26' N. and long. 6h. 17m. E.

The greatest phase will be seen at 9h. 56m. Greenwich mean time, from a point in lat. 63° 9' N. and long. 1h. 2m. W. Magnitude of the greatest phase = 0.523 (Sun's diameter = 1).

The Eclipse will be last seen at 11h. 25m. Greenwich mean time, from a point in lat. 33° 39' N. and long. 4h. 27m. W.

The mean local times of the first and last apparent contacts, as seen from certain stations in British North America, are given by the following table.

The magnitude of the Eclipse (Moon's diameter = 1) = 1.810. h. m.

Duration of total phase

Interval between first and last contact of the Moon with the Shadow

Interval between first and last contact of the Moon with the Penumbra

This Eclipse will not be visible in Canada, as the Moon during its occurrence will be below the horizon.

VI.—PARTIAL ECLIPSE OF THE SUN, August 27.

This Eclipse will be visible only in part of the Southern Hemisphere.

Magnitude of greatest phase (Sun's diameter = 1) = 0.526.

OUR CALENDAR.

Some months back, an anonymous letter, signed "OBSERVER," appeared in the columns of the Montreal Gazette, charging the Astronomical portion of our CANADIAN ALMANAC with gross blunders and absurdities. The ignorance displayed by this soi-disant "Observer" is so ridiculous and childish as to render his remarks hardly worth our notice; and, indeed, we should have passed the matter over in silence had not our attention been more than once called to the critique by letters from many friends both in Canada and the United States. It is also very possible that some persons may have heard that objections have been made to this department of the Almanac, without knowing what these objections were, and as they are moreover put forth by "Observer" with an air of self-assurance calculated to mislead those unacquainted with the subject, we have determined to publish his letter, and append a few explanatory remarks, which may prevent others from falling into similar errors.

To the Editor of the Montreal Gazette.

SIR,—I wish to draw, through you, the attention of Messrs Maclear & Co., of Toronto, to a series of errors of great magnitude which run throughout the whole of their astronomical calculations, as given in their "Canadian Almanac" for 1858. It is alleged that these calculations are made "expressly for this publication at the Provincial Observatory at Toronto." I can scarcely imagine this to be the case, else so gross a series of errors could scarcely have been committed; or, if the reality be such, there must have been some egregious oversight. My attention has been drawn to the fact, in attempting to establish a mean local time for the ending of the Solar Eclipse of this morning; and I thought, that as so much space was devoted in this Almanac to astronomical calculations and data of various kinds, that I would have experienced but little difficulty in coming to my conclusion. But I never was so miserably disappointed. Thus I find (according to this Almanac) that the sun rises and sets on this day in Quebec and Toronto at precisely the same moment of time, viz: $6^{\circ} 13'$ for former, and $6^{\circ} 13'$ for the latter; and that the moon rises in both places at precisely the same moment, viz: $6^{\circ} 30'$.

Now the longitudes of Quebec, Montreal, and Toronto, are respectively $288^{\circ} 41'$, $286^{\circ} 44'$, $286^{\circ} 25'$, and $280^{\circ} 39'$ each; or, as usually set down, $71^{\circ} 18'$ for the first, $73^{\circ} 35'$ for the second, and $79^{\circ} 21'$ for the third, West, exhibiting a longitudinal difference between the first and last cities, or Quebec and Toronto, of $8^{\circ} 5$ degrees; and as every 15 degrees of longitude are approximately equivalent to one hour of time, the sun ought to rise in Quebec thirty-two minutes and thirty-three seconds (or approximately so) earlier than what it should in Toronto.

On referring back to the time of the sun rising at the commencement of the year, January 1st, I observe that a difference of only 11 minutes is made between the occurrence of the same event in the two places. From that period to the present, however (March 15), the time has gradually diminished, until it has amounted to nothing. But not only this: it is actually made to rise by that previous amount of time earlier in Toronto than it does in Quebec. Joshua was a fool in comparison with such astronomical achievements as this. He only made the sun stand still for a limited time, but here we have throughout a whole year the sun made to rise (on paper) more early on a westerly place than on an easterly one.

Would it not be wise, Mr. Editor, for the Messrs. Maclear to examine a little more minutely into their astronomical data before issuing them, as sanctioned by, or the work of the "Provincial Observatory of Toronto." If it be true, as stated on the cover, that "the astronomical calculations have been made expressly for this publication at the Provincial Observatory of Toronto," one of two contingencies follows: that the parties concerned are incompetent to their duties or that they have committed a series of the grossest blunders which I have ever witnessed.

Yours very truly,

OBSERVER.

Montreal, 15th March, 1858.

The misapprehension of "Observer" consists in his confounding absolute with local time. Absolute time is independent of the station of the spectator, but local time is measured from the noon of the place: thus MEAN LOCAL TIME is expressed by the number of mean hours, &c., that have elapsed since mean noon, or, what is the same thing, by the angle at the pole between a declination circle through the mean sun and the meridian of the place, reckoned from the meridian towards the west, at the rate of 1h. for 15° . Similarly, APPARENT LOCAL TIME is expressed by the angle between a declination circle through the true sun and the meridian of the place, and measured in the same manner.

If two places, A and B, be on the same parallel, with a difference of long. of 15° , the sun will set at the more westerly place, A, one hour later than at B, reckoned in absolute time, but approximately at the same instant in local time; because the noon from which the local time of A is reckoned occurs one hour later in absolute time than the noon from which the time of B is reckoned.

Again, if two places, C and D, be on the same meridian, and, for example, be both in north latitude, the sun when in north declination will rise earlier in absolute time at the northern station C, than it will at D. When the sun is in south declination he will rise later at C than at D, and when the sun is at the equinoxes he will rise at the same instant at both C and D. Moreover, this will be true also in local time, because the times of both places are reckoned from the same meridian.

If "Observer" would understand that the local time of sunrise depends on the latitude of the place, and only indirectly and that to a very small extent on the longitude, the mystery would be cleared up of the sun rising in January 11 minutes earlier at Toronto than at Quebec; of this difference diminishing and finally vanishing as the sun approaches the equator, and (we may add, if he had examined the Almanac a little further,) of the sun after the equinox rising earlier at Quebec than at Toronto.

Before concluding, we must express our acknowledgments to an anonymous writer, "W." who a few days after in the same journal, the Montreal Gazette, published an able letter in reply to "Observer," entitled "A Corrector corrected," in which he very clearly and happily demolishes our friend's attack upon the Almanac, and we regret that our space is too limited to give his letter here. We must, however, explain to "W." the cause of a discrepancy he notices in his letter, as follows: "From it (Table of Semi-diurnal Arcs) 'Observer' would have learned that to get the time of the sun's rising for the latitude of Montreal, he had to deduct 5h. 51m. 7sec. from the time it reached the meridian, and 'that, therefore, the sun would rise on the 15th inst. (March, 1858,) at 6h 17 min. 56 sec. This time is 4 min. 56 sec. later 'than that given in the Almanac, &c.'" The difference (4 min. 46 sec.) between the result obtained by "W." and that given in our Almanac is explained on page 2, where it is stated that the time of sunrise is given for the upper limb corrected for refraction. It is, in fact, the time at which the sun first actually appears.

* In Tables in last year's Almanac, for 1855 & 1856, the figures inserted here were the average range of the months; they should be the yearly range 118°·2 and 115°·3 respectively.

The mean temperature of the year 1857 was 42°·73, being 1·34 below the average of 18 years, but 0°·57 above that of the preceding year. The mean temperatures of the several months were in seven instances below and in five above the averages for the respective months, the average depression to the average elevation being moreover in the ratio of 4 to 2·5. January was the coldest January and February was the warmest February on record, and the thermic deviation from their respective averages, but in contrary directions, was so great as to occasion an inversion in the difference between their temperature; for whereas February is on the average 0°·24 colder than January, it was in this instance by 5°·78 the warmer of the two.

Another example somewhat similar but not amounting to an inversion occurred at the close of the year. November, which on the average is more than 9° warmer than December, was but 1°·7 warmer in 1857. January was further remarkable for exhibiting the lowest absolute temperature—20°·1 that ever occurred in January, and February was also remarkable for the highest temperature 52°·4 that ever occurred in February. The minimum of November—32°·5 was more than 10° lower than any temperature that occurred before in that month. Jan. was moreover not only the coldest Jan. on record and the coldest month of 1857, but it was absolutely the coldest month ever recorded.

The highest absolute temperature was 88°·2 in August, and the lowest—20°·1 in January.

There were 71 instances in which the temperature at the hour of observation was depressed 20° below the normal for that hour, 17 instances only when there was an equal deviation in excess.

BAROMETER.—The highest reading of the barometer was 30.361 inches, and occurred at 9 p. m. on 10th February, and the lowest 28.452 inches, which was the lowest ever recorded, occurred at 10 a. m. on 19th November. There were 43 instances in which the reading of the barometer exceeded the average, and 54 when it fell short of the average to the extent of half an inch. The greatest deviation in excess was 0·745 at midnight on 10th February, and the greatest deviation in defect was 1·110 at 8 a. m. 19th Nov.

The greatest barometric range within 24 hours was with a rising column was .918 on 8th February, and the greatest with a falling column was 715 on 26th February.

HUMIDITY.—The mean humidity of the year was 79, the greatest monthly humidity being in Jan., and the least in April and May. There were 15 instances of complete saturation, of which 7 occurred in Jan., 4 in Feb., 2 in March, and 2 in Dec. The days of the greatest humidity were 22nd Jan. and 5th Feb., on both of which the mean humidity of the day amounted to .93. The least humidity at the time of observation was .31 on the 4th March, and the two driest days were 30th March with a mean humidity .54, and 21st May with a mean humidity .55.

CLOUDS.—The extent of sky clouded was on the average of the year three-fifths of the whole, and for nine months the sky was on the average more than half overcast. December was the most cloudy month, and September the month most free from clouds. The most cloudy hours on the average were from 2 to 4 p. m., and the hour most free from clouds was 10 p. m.

WIND.—The resultant direction of the wind it will be seen from the table was rather more from the north than usual, and both the resultant velocity and the mean velocity were less than in the preceding year. The most windy day was 24th October when the velocity was 27.03 miles per hour. The most windy hour absolutely was 6 a. m. to 7 a. m. on 10th February, when the velocity was 44.6 miles per hour. The most windy hour on the average of the year was from noon to 1 p. m. with an average velocity of 10.63 miles per hour, and the least windy hour from 5 to 6 a. m. with an av. vel. of 6.36 miles per hour.

RAIN AND SNOW.—The depth of rain, 33.205 inches, was considerably in excess of that of late years, but the total depth of rain and melted snow, though amounting to 40.555 inches, fell short by about one inch of that of 1855, when the quantity of snow was extraordinarily great. August was the most rainy month, considered with reference to the quantity of rain, and June with reference to the number of rainy days. January, both as regards the quantity of rain and the number of rainy days was the least rainy month, but if snow be reckoned as well as rain January will rank next to August with respect to the amount, and next to June with respect to the number of days of precipitation. The most rainy day was 15th February, when the depth amounted to 1.620 inches, and the heaviest fall of snow was on 10th January with a depth of 5.5 inches.

THUNDERSTORMS.—Of the 23 thunderstorms enumerated in the table there were but few remarkable for violence. There were besides 19 days when lightning occurred without thunder or hail 3 days of thunder without lightning or hail, and 6 days when hail fell unaccompanied by either.

AURORAS.—The nights favorable for observing Auroras and the number of auroras observed were both considerably less than in the preceding three years but the auroras that were observed on the nights of 7th May and 17th of November were far more brilliant than any recorded during the same period.

From the 10th to the 13th August the periodic meteors were numerous, and some of considerable brilliancy; in November there was a remarkable absence of these bodies.

THE FINANCIAL CRISIS OF 1857-8.

The autumn and winter of 1857-8 will long be remembered by the occurrence of one of the most severe and sudden commercial crises that has been experienced during the present century. The recurrence of such panics at almost regular intervals of eight or ten years for the last hundred years, has afforded matter for much speculation; and political economists have favoured us with many different theories to account for their occurrence. It is not our purpose however to trace the causes of these periodical disasters, but rather to glance at the history of the late "crisis," its effects on the trade and commerce of the world, and particularly its bearings on the agricultural, commercial, and manufacturing interests of Canada.

In tracing the effects of the crisis, its causes will be incidentally discussed. The causes were doubtless different in different countries; yet so intimate are the relations which bind commercial nations together, that any interruption to the general business of the one is speedily and injuriously felt by all.

Within the last forty years, the commercial world has experienced five distinct "crises," each varying in its apparent causes. The crisis of 1818 is remembered for its severity both in England and the United States. At this period Sir Robert Peel carried his measure restricting the issues of the Bank of England, a law which has been condemned by many monetary writers. In 1825-6 another crisis occurred, induced through famine in England, and a fall in the price of Cotton in the United States. In 1833 another financial revulsion took place in the United States consequent upon the establishment of the Treasury by General Jackson, and the removal of Government deposits from the United States Bank. In 1837 occurred the greatest commercial and financial crisis of which we have any account, exceeding in its effects and endurance, though not in intensity, that of 1857.

The crisis of 1857 fell like a "thunderbolt" on the commercial world. The mania for speedy riches had so blinded the public mind, that the dangers which were accumulating on every side were unperceived or uncared for, till our whole commercial and monetary systems were involved in one common chaos, from which they are only yet slowly emerging.

Scarcely had the abundant harvest of the South and West been secured, when the failure of a large banking establishment in Ohio with its principal agency in New York alarmed the public mind. On the 24th of August, 1857, the Ohio Life and Trust Company closed its doors. The connection of this large Institution with other minor concerns soon brought these to a stand, and the alarm, aided and increased by the Electric Telegraph, soon became general. A feeling of universal insecurity created a desire to realize and the best securities depreciated in value. Those step children called Bank notes, which are never welcome to the paternal roof, flocked home in thousands, like unwelcome visitors at the most inopportune moment. Discounts were contracted, and merchants, manufacturers and business men generally who had large payments to make, yielded to the pressure. Stocks fell to an unprecedented low figure, and exchange became unsaleable. The loss of confidence so essential to commercial activity became after all the great cause of nine-tenths of the evils resulting from the crisis. Houses of undoubted standing were looked upon with distrust. Ample means was no security against failure. The Banker looked upon the merchant's paper with suspicion, and the merchant looked upon the Bank notes with equal distrust. The poorer classes surrounded the Banks, and in their eagerness to save themselves from loss, withdrew the precious metals, an act which was speedily to deprive them of their daily bread. Deprived of the basis of their circulation the Banks curtailed their discounts, workshops and factories were closed, and thousands of industrious workmen in the principal cities of the United States were thrown out of employment. Meanwhile the United States country Banks (of which there are over 1000) suspended in dozens, the Banks in Philadelphia followed suit, and on the thirteenth October several New York Banks gave way. On the next day, by general agreement, the whole New York City Banks (except the Chemical) suspended specie payment. The turning point was now reached and men began to breathe freely. The notes of the great majority of the United States Banks being secured by stocks passed freely, and for nearly two months scarcely a Bank in the United States paid Specie at its counter.

From the United States the panic passed to England and the continent of Europe. At first it was thought that England could stand the shock without serious difficulty, but the intimate relations which bind commercial nations together had not been accorded their due importance. Houses in the American trade began to give way, and in their fall involved others in ruin. Banking houses of long standing toppled down side by side with the wild speculator or reckless adventurer. The fair fame of Scottish banking was stained by the failure of one of the principal banking Institutions under circumstances so discredit as to throw even the wild cat banking of our western neighbors in the shade. An institution with seven and a-half millions of dollars of paid up capital, and thirty millions of deposits became hopelessly insolvent, and caused it is said an amount of suffering in Scotland greater than that entailed upon the country by the Russian War.

From these scenes of mortification and suffering let us turn to our own country. There was a pressure upon us from England, France, Germany, and the United States, for we were indebted to them all. The price of our principal article of export had fallen nearly one hundred per cent. In value within four months. The cry of Bank failure was heard on every hand. Exchange in England had gone down to 98, and the Bank of England had raised the rate of interest to ten per cent. The American Bankers were collecting our Bank notes over a frontier of a thousand miles, and demanding specie at every Bank counter. The United States Banks had suspended specie payment. The Bank of England had been permitted by Government to exceed its legal issues. The Bank of France and the Bank of Hamburg had received assistance from their respective Governments. In the midst of this general embarrassment and alarm it is a matter not only of congratulation but of pride, that not one Canadian Bank suspended specie payment. Intimately connected with the neighbouring Union in our business relations, having the same legal tender, and being exposed to the same risks from the withdrawal of public confidence, it speaks well for our bank management that not one Banking Institution in Canada dishonoured its paper for a single day. Not one we believe ever faltered, and from the following table it will be seen that public confidence was never for a moment withdrawn.

It is true that many parties advised the suspension of specie payment, and a Member of the Provincial Parliament compared the conduct of the Banks to the charge of Balacava, "as mad as it was glorious." The above returns however clearly indicate that no sudden contraction of the currency took place. It cannot be denied that the determination of the Banks to continue specie payments at all hazards, was attended with serious inconvenience to the mercantile community; but on the other hand, the pressure to which these were subjected was the best test of their solvency, and cannot fail ultimately to give confidence in their stability. We must not however attribute the prostration of business in 1858 to the panic of 1857. Canada lost comparatively little by the crisis. She was a debtor, not a creditor both as regards England and the United States. Her great difficulty arose from being pressed for payment at an inconvenient time. Her surplus productions on which she relied to meet her engagements had not only depreciated in value, but owing to the loss of banking facilities could not be brought to market. Under these circumstances it need not be wondered at the general business of the country was seriously interrupted. Three fourths of the people of Upper Canada are engaged in agricultural pursuits, and the others are mainly dependent upon these. The fall in the price of wheat was clearly the great cause of our embarrassment. This article is the main element of the prosperity of Upper Canada. Its fall was not caused by the crisis, but was rather the cause of the crisis itself. England, through the full development of her manufacturing industry, is not so entirely dependent upon agriculture. The U. States in their mines and manufactures have also sources of wealth apart from the products of the soil. Hence we see these countries speedily recover from the effects of the crisis. In Canada it is otherwise. The causes of our difficulties remain. Debts contracted in June, 1857, required double the quantity of produce to discharge them in June 1858. The evil is incurred by our purchases being principally from abroad. The large importations send the gold out of the country and contracts the Bank circulation. The scarcity of money prostrates internal trade, and the farmer's home market is destroyed. His returns are diminished on every side, while his liabilities remain the same. The purchase of an extra hundred acres of land which under ordinary circumstances he could have easily met, becomes a source of embarrassment, and he is regarded as a speculator in real estate. The mechanic who in the bright day of prosperity had purchased a village lot, is thrown out of employment; he cannot meet his instalments and the savings of years fall into the hands of the sheriff. The suspension of home industry necessitates large importations of foreign goods and the evil is increased. To show the disastrous results to Canada arising from the fall in the price of wheat and other causes; we have only to state the total exports from Canada for the last three years:—

It thus appears that the value of our exports of agricultural products fell nearly one-half between 1856 and 1857. Since 1850 the variations in the price of wheat in the Toronto Market have been as follows:—

From the above it will be seen that within four months the price of wheat fell from 9s. to 4s. 6d., thus diminishing by one-half the ability of Upper Canada to pay her debts; nor was this all. The crisis compelled the banks to diminish their discounts while the Lower Canadian banks, which in time of prosperity had made largely by their Upper Canada business, withdrew their capital to the parent institutions. Our produce merchants whose standing had never been questioned, could not obtain their ordinary banking facilities, and to the fall in price was added for a time the impossibility of sending the produce to market. This is best shown by the following table compiled from the Trade Returns of the wheat and flour exported within the last three years:—

	WHEAT.	FLOUR.
1855.....	Bushels, 3,133,748	Barrels, 643,936
1856.....	“ 4,997,656	“ 878,775
1857.....	“ 2,762,654	“ 743,949

Here then we have the true causes of the difficulties of Upper Canada. Having purchased goods in England, the United States and Lower Canada, commensurate with her wants and in anticipation of a continuance of high prices and her usual banking accommodation, she found herself suddenly deprived of all these elements of prosperity. What wonder that she felt the crisis more than Lower Canada whose chief article of export (lumber) had increased in value four millions of dollars between 1855 and 1857? Had the picture been reversed, had lumber fallen and wheat remained the same, and had the bank capital been withdrawn from Montreal and centred in Toronto, what would have been the respective condition of the two sections at this moment. The charge of extravagant living and wild speculation is as a drop in the bucket compared to the effect of the causes here pointed out.

A severe but salutary lesson is read to the whole people of Canada in the above statements. The impolicy of depending so entirely upon the products of agriculture is clearly demonstrated, and never till there is a greater diversity of employments creating a steady and profitable home market to the farmer, will the prosperity of this fine country be placed on a permanent basis. Canada and particularly Western Canada is essentially an agricultural country. As we have said three-fourths of her people are engaged in agriculture, and the other fourth is mainly dependent upon these. Whatever therefore contributes to the prosperity of the farmer tends to advance the interests of all classes in the community. The facilities afforded to the agriculturist by the introduction of railways into Canada have added to the value of real estate in the country an amount almost incredible. In many parts of the Province land has risen from six to forty dollars per acre. The total number of miles of railway in the country is now over 1600, and the increased value of real estate from this cause alone is estimated at over one hundred and fifty millions of dollars. This increase in value however, can only be rendered profitable by a fuller development of the various products of the soil. The experience of the past eight years shows the risks to which the wheat crop is exposed. The risks of the crop itself, and the fluctuations in the price are greater than those of any other commodity. The labours of the mechanic yields a certain return, but the return of the farmer is dependent on many contingencies.—Every wind that blows and every shower that falls in this or in other countries, affects his condition. The avarice of capitalists and the ambition of Kings alike disturb the certainty of his reward. Within three years wheat sold at 11s. 9d. and 4s. 3d. in the Toronto market, and in October, 1851, it fell to 3s. 1d. To the ordinary risks of the crop and the fluctuations in the market must be added the undeniable fact, that continuous cropping must speedily so deteriorate the soil, that the wheat culture will be abandoned in Upper Canada. Like the once fertile valley of the Richelieu in Lower Canada, which in 1790 yielded forty bushels per acre, the wheat fields of Western Canada under the present system will become exhausted, and their owners dependent upon the western prairies for their daily bread. In most other productions of the soil there is a steady market and fair prices. While our farmers have been raising wheat to be destroyed by the fly or sold at 80 cents per bushel, our American neighbours have been doing a profitable business in supplying our cities with the common necessities of life. According to the Trade Returns, '57, Canada imported from the U States the following amount of the undermentioned products of the farm, and chiefly for consumption in Canada West:—

We commend the above to the consideration of the intelligent farmers of those sections of Upper Canada where the insect has destroyed their crop of wheat. The total imports of free goods in 1857 was £2,160,510, the greater part of which was for agricultural or animal products. Why will not our farmers turn their attention more to the raising of live stock, particularly in those sections of the country where the risk of the wheat crop is the greatest? We have seen on the bleak hills of Scotland ten thousand sheep in a single flock, and while the long winters of Canada may present a great obstacle to the successful raising of stock, there can be no doubt from the success of some of our most intelligent agriculturists, that the raising of this description of stock could be largely and profitably engaged in. Why should the people of Toronto and Hamilton be to a large extent supplied with American butter and cheese, eggs and vegetables? With a soil and climate adapted for raising the best fruit in the world, why should we import a large quantity of apples from the United States. In some orchards on the Hudson as well as in Ohio the annual returns from fifty acres of orchard is over ten thousand dollars, and employment given to a large class unfitted for the heavier labours of the field. Why again do not our farmers engage in the cultivation of hops, grass seeds and tobacco? The latter might be extensively and profitably grown in the Western Peninsula. The Ottawa district is well adapted for the growth of flax. It is universally admitted that a better system of agriculture and a proper rotation of crops would tend to enrich both the farmer and the soil.

It is true a proper rotation of crops can never be profitably adopted in the absence of those manufacturing cities which consume on the spot those bulky and perishable articles which cannot be carried to a distant market. It is therefore the interest of the agriculturists to encourage the introduction of manufactures into the Province. If ten millions of pounds invested in railways have added twice that sum to the value of the real estate in the country, an equal amount invested in manufactures would be still of more advantage to the farmer. Looking at the immense water powers of Canada, the waste labour in all our cities, towns and villages, the easy means of communication by our lakes, rivers and railroads, the facilities for attaining the raw material and the duty of twenty per cent. in favour of the Canadian manufacturer, all point to Canada as the future seat of extensive manufactures.

Among the branches of Canadian industry which might be extensively and profitably engaged in, is the manufacture of pot and pearl ashes. This is an article for which there is a steady demand at remunerative prices. It is largely manufactured in Lower Canada, some of the wealthiest "habitans" being largely engaged in it. It requires but a very small capital and the time occupied in the process is very short. There are millions of bushels of wood ashes wasted in Upper Canada which might and ought to be turned to good account. At present large quantities of ashes are collected in Canada by the Americans and carried to Ogdenburgh and elsewhere, to be there manufactured into a valuable article of export; certainly our neighbours have no advantage over us in the manufacture of this article. The export of pot and pearl ashes is very considerable, and ought to be double what it is now. Many persons coming to this country with scarcely sufficient means to purchase an ordinary farm, might engage in the manufacture of ashes to great advantage. The ordinary risks of agriculture are avoided, the yield is certain while the price is steady and remunerative.

To show the importance of this branch of business we give below the exports for the last three years:—

EXPORTS OF POTS.		EXPORTS OF PEARLS.
Bbls.	Value.	Bbls.	Value.
1855—15,762.....	£130,566	6,666.....	£45,882
1856—17,113.....	168,911	7,359.....	60,384
1857—21,880.....	214,965	7,576.....	71,998

There is no doubt that the productiveness of the soil of Western Canada and the high price of wheat during the last few years has tended unduly to encourage the growth of this cereal to the neglect of other products of the soil, as well as the development of manufacturing industry. The time has however arrived when we must take the next step in the march of civilization. The immense surplus productions of the virgin prairies of the west, and the facilities now afforded them of reaching the eastern markets, cannot fail to produce a low range of prices for years to come. The interest of the agriculturist is not promoted by increasing producers, but by increasing consumers. It is not a full but a bare market that increases the demand for his labour.—It should therefore be the great object of our people to turn to good account all the advantages they enjoy. To develop the manufacturing as well as the agricultural resources of the country. Commencing with the manufacture of those articles requiring the smallest capital and the nearest allied to agricultural pursuits and advancing by degrees to those branches requiring a greater amount of capital and skill. In most northern countries where there is a long season in which out-door labour is suspended, the combination of agricultural and mechanical pursuits becomes a necessity. Articles, the manufacture of which can be carried on in the rural home and around the winter fire, are far more suited to the circumstances of a new country than such as can only be produced by large factories and expensive machinery. At present we are large importers of articles made in the quiet homes of the New England farmers, and so far as Upper Canada is concerned large importers from Lower Canada of articles produced in the French villages of that part of the Province. It is a pleasing feature to note the progress of domestic manufactures in any part of the country, but it is not very creditable to the enterprise of the Western section that a large portion of the straw goods consumed here is made in Lower Canada, finished in New York, and imported from thence into Upper Canada.

Among the branches of home industry in which the agricultural population might be profitably engaged at certain seasons of the year, and in which they are largely engaged in some parts of the country are the following; the amount of goods of the classes mentioned still imported shows how much might be done towards rendering Canada a self-sustaining country.

IMPORTS IN 1857.
Straw goods.....	£47,642 14 9
Dried fruits (free).....	8,024 1 8
Clothes ready made.....	36,276 16 11
Hats and caps other than fur ..	67,258 5 3
Hosiery.....	39,299 4 7
Pickles and Sauces.....	12,431 11 9
Boots and Shoes.....	51,336 3 7
Earthen Ware.....	89,414 9 6

There are many other articles besides the above in which the female and junior members of the agricultural families of Canada might be profitably employed during the winter season. In the Eastern States and in Lower Canada they are so engaged to a large extent increasing the business of the cities and the wealth of the country. Advancing another step in the scale of manufacturing industry we come to those branches of trade requiring a large outlay in buildings, machinery and material, and concentrating population and production. Among these might be enumerated cotton, woolen and iron manufactures. Of these articles the imports in 1857 were as follows:—

Cottons.....	£1,199,011 9 2
Woolens.....	976,947 6 7
Iron and Hardware.....	489,942 5 2
	£2,665,901 0 11

It is not for us to say whether the manufacture of the above could be profitably engaged in, but we would call the attention of Canadian importers and foreign capitalists to the subject. Cotton can be laid down from the place of growth in ten days and much cheaper than it can be taken to Liverpool or Boston. Wool is now largely exported from the country, and is generally from twenty to thirty per cent. cheaper here than in the New England States. Iron is admitted free or at a low duty. There is a large amount of waste labour in the country which could be cheaply secured if constant employment was given.

In conclusion let us recapitulate the views we have advanced on the crisis of 1857. That it was one of those periodical revolutions consequent upon a withdrawal of confidence in a state of society in which unshaken confidence is the basis of all mercantile transactions and activity. That Canada lost little by the crisis being a debtor not a creditor abroad. That her difficulties arose from the loss of her banking facilities and a fall in the price of her exportable products. That a return of prosperity will be gradual and slow, and will greatly depend upon the enterprise of the people themselves. That the dependence of Western Canada upon a single product of the soil, unequal alike in the yield and in the price places her in a false position. That permanent prosperity can only be attained by securing a greater diversity of employments and employing to advantage the waste labour now in the country. That in a northern country agriculture cannot be engaged in at all seasons of the year, and that such seasons should be spent by the younger members of the family in those indoor employments which contribute alike to the prosperity of the country and to the proper training to habits of thrift and industry of the rising generation. That manufacturing pursuits in a new country must be developed first in those branches which are most closely allied with agricultural employments. Then in the manufacture of articles in which the home becomes the work-shop and the family circle the miniature factory, and lastly in rearing those stately buildings in which inventive genius and mechanical skill multiply and cheapen the productions of labour, and bring within the reach of all, many articles, which otherwise must have been confined to the few.

Looking at the immense resources of Canada and the enterprise of her people, we have no fear for the future. Economy in public and private expenditure, confidence in ourselves, and a better appreciation of the advantages we enjoy, will in due time raise our country to the position which she ought to occupy among the nations of the earth.

All Petitions must be dated.

MATHEMATICAL DEPARTMENT.

The two Prizes, of the value of £5 each, offered by the liberality of the Publishers for the best and second best solutions of the Problems in this Almanac for 1857 and 1858, are awarded as follows:—The first, with high commendation, to the Rev. E. J. Senkler, Brockville; the second to Mr. R. S. Finlay, Ridgetown. Those gentlemen will please communicate with the Publishers on the subject. We are happy to be able again to repeat the liberal offer of a Prize of books to the value of $20 for the best solutions of those in the present issue; all communications (prepaid) must be in the hands of the Publishers on or before July 1st, 1859. Want of space has compelled us to omit several interesting communications, which we trust to be able to take up next year, and at the same time to give, in full, the solutions of some of the more difficult problems. Contributors are invited to forward original questions for insertion, but, bearing in mind how limited our space is, they must not take it in judgement if we do not publish all of them. To one of our contributors, who appears in '57 and '58, under the anonymous title of "A Correspondent," we owe our apologies; his address was, unfortunately lost before his papers came into our hands.

Mathematical Solutions Received from Correspondents.

Solutions to Mathematical Problems, 1857 and 1858.

1857. Prob. 6. $\frac{1}{2} \{ (n-p)(n-p-1)(n-p-2)(n-p-3) - p(p-1)(p-2)(p-3) \}$. Prob. 8. Common ratio is 1, -1, or $\sqrt{\frac{1 \pm \sqrt{5}}{2}}$. Prob. 9. The only series is one which has 1 for a common ratio. Prob. 11. The last approximation should have been $\frac{1}{2} (3 + x - 3x^2 + x^3)$. Prob. 12. £166666 $\frac{2}{3}$. Prob. 13. (1) $x=1, -\frac{2}{3}, \pm \frac{1}{2} \sqrt{2}$; (2) $x=3, -4$. Prob. 14. $x = \frac{n^2-2}{p} ab \pm \frac{n}{2p} (a^2-l^2) \sqrt{4-n^2}$. Prob. 33. No. Greatest pressure possible is 180 lbs. Prob. 34. 135 ft. Prob. 41. \$182-21. Prob. 42. John and Sarah; Hannah and Peter; Elizabeth and William. Prob. 43. 63. Prob. 44. Nearly 12-4548 miles apart. Prob. 45. 1958 and 2479 sq. ft. Prob. 46. 15, 25, 4, 100 £. In this question, C's and D's shares should be multiplied and divided by the abstract number 5, and not by £5. Prob. 47. A's offer is worth £3125-8, B's 3025-2, C's 3086-4. Prob. 48. 419' 4ft. nearly. Prob. 49. 252, 462-057, 279-674 ft. Prob. 50. 2-3262 inches.
 SOLUTIONS FOR YEAR 1858. Prob. 2. Area, 486 sq. chains; sides, 27 and 36 ch. Prob. 3. Distances between trees, 178, 142-8, 79-2 yards nearly. Prob. 4. Never; 400 miles is the limit of his journey, which would be eternal. Prob. 5. Reckoning from top or bottom, the ranges for the respective holes are 6, 8, 9-16, 9, 8, 10 ft., and the quantity spouted is 505 gallons nearly. Prob. 7. 100. Prob. 8. a sec. 15°, a being side of square. Prob. 11. r being radius of enclosure, the grazing space is $\frac{5}{8} \pi^3 r^2$, or about 8-225 times the enclosure. Prob. 13. For a metal pipe, 2-19 and '23 ft.; for a wooden, 2-42 and '26 ft. Prob. 14. Generally the deviation in minutes is 15 t sin l, t being the time of flight in minutes and l the latitude. For Toronto in the question, this is about 10' 21". Prob. 15. As the numbers 1, 6, 8, 12. Prob. 16 (1) is spoiled by a misprint, $\sqrt{a^2+x^2}$ should have been $\sqrt{a^2+ax}$. (2). $x=5, 4$, or $\frac{5}{8} \{ -3 \pm \sqrt{-55} \}$. (3). The pairs for x and y are 0, ±1; -2, 1 or 3; $\pm \sqrt{-1}, \pm 1 \pm \sqrt{-1}$; besides other roots answering to $x = \frac{1}{2} (1 + \sqrt{5})$. Prob. 17. No solution in whole numbers has been received. from any correspondent, to PROB. 9 (1858). Proposed by Mr. Dunne, nor any to Prob. 12, by E. S.; we therefore re-publish these problems. Will the authors forward their own solutions?

Problems contributed by Correspondents.

PROB. 1. By A. McLellan, Jr. The diameter of a solid glass ball is 15 inches, what is the greatest cube which can be cut out of it; and if the cube be blown into a globe of uniform thickness capable of holding 6 gallons of water, what is its thickness?

PROB. 3. "Twelve trees of different kinds of fruit, I in six rows would plant; In each row, four;—but how to do't, I your assistance want."

LADY'S DIARY, 1754, A. D.

By how many different arrangements could this be effected?

PROB. 4. By Joseph Morrison. Four inaccessible objects A, B, C, D, are situated in the same straight line and visible at the same time from only one point, E. The distance between A and B is 20 chains, and between C and D 12 chains; the angle AEB is 20° ; AEC, 38° ; AED, 50° . Required, the distance between B and C.

PROB. 5. By H. T. B. Dhs. Scudamore. If the ridge and eaves of a house are 40 and 32 ft. high, and the width of the house 30 ft., where would a ball, rolling from the ridge to the eaves and then falling freely, strike the ground?

PROB. 6. By A. McLellan, Jr. The train A leaves Toronto at the same time that the train B leaves Windsor (the railroad being supposed to have double track), and B arrives at Toronto 5 hours. A at Windsor 9 hours, after they meet. How long was each on the road? Also, if the train A of 50 tons move at 30 miles per hour on the level rail, the resistance of friction on the rail being 8 lbs. per ton, and of the atmosphere 33 lbs. on the whole train when it moves at 10 miles per hour: diameter of driving wheel, 6 feet; area of piston, 100 inches; length of stroke, 1.5 feet; resistance due to blast-pipe, 1.75 lbs. per inch of the piston (the speed of the train being 10 miles per hour), it is required to determine the pressure of the steam, the evaporation of the boiler, and the number of bushels of coal necessary for a journey of 120 miles, supposing that one bushel will evaporate 11.5 cubic feet of water. Also, if train B of 100 tons, descend an incline of 600 feet, the height of the plane being 9 feet, what velocity per second will the train acquire, if the friction be 8 lbs. per ton?

Problems from the University of Toronto Papers.

PROB. 14. Find an arithmetic series every term of which can be expressed by $73 + 8x$ in suitable scales of notation.

PROB. 15. A, B, C, start from the same point together to travel at uniform rates round a circle which is 14 miles in circumference; A going in one direction, B and C in the other. A meets C for the first time just opposite to the starting point a quarter of an hour after he had met B for the first time. A's rate is an integral number of miles per hour. How long before all three come together again?

PROB. 16. A mortgage of £500 is to be repaid by 5 equal annual instalments with interest at 6 per cent. yearly on the amount remaining unpaid. What should be given for the mortgage by a person who wishes to make 10 per cent. per annum on his money?

PROB. 17. If in a given regular hexagon a circle be inscribed, and the points of contact joined, and within the new figure another circle be inscribed and its points of contact joined, and so on ad infinitum. Find the sum of the areas of all the hexagons thus formed.

PROB. 18. In a conic whose centre is C. If CP, CD, and CQ. CE be two pairs of conjugate semi-diameters, PE will be parallel to QD.

PROB. 19. Circles are described, taking for diameters the radius-vectors of a cardioid drawn from the cusp. Find

$$\sum_{n=1}^{\infty} \frac{n}{1} \sin \theta \cos \theta + \sum_{n=2}^{\infty} \frac{n(n+1)}{2} \sin^2 \theta \cos 2\theta + \sum_{n=3}^{\infty} \frac{n(n+1)(n+2)}{3} \sin^3 \theta \cos 3\theta + \text{etc.}$$

PROB. 7. By J. B. York. Find the greatest triangle which can be formed in a given ellipse by joining the ends of two focal radius-vectors which contain a given angle.

PROB. 3. By K. S. Finlay. A fleet consists of 5 vessels, A, B, C, D, and E. A is stationed at Cape Ann on the N.E. of Massachusetts; B is stationed on the East side of Cape Cod at a distance of 45 miles, and an angle of $20^\circ 23'$ East of south from A; C is stationed 60 miles from A at an angle 6° North of East; D is to be stationed somewhere yet to be determined, and E is to cruise upon the wide, wide sea. Whenever D comes in from her cruising excursion, she is always to sail in a straight line in the direction of E (passing her, if necessary) until she meets all the other vessels of the fleet, each of which is to meet her (D) by taking the shortest course possible. Now C engages to sail as much as A and B together in meeting D under all circumstances, provided D does not cross the line between A and B. Determine where the Commodore must station E in order to fulfil these conditions; and, supposing D to come in 3 times from a point 3° W. of S., 4 times from the S.S.E., and 5 times from N. by W. Required the number of miles sailed by A, B, C, to meet her, and the number sailed by D from where she meets the first unto where she meets the last vessel. The problem to be solved on the supposition that the surface of the sea is plane.

PROB. 9. By H. T. B. Dhs. Scudamore (Newbury). If a segment of a sphere and a frustum of a right cone have the same altitude and base, and the surface of the frustum be osculatory to that of the segment along the boundary of their common base, then shall the same frustum be equal to the said segment, together with a right cone whose altitude is equal to that of the segment and whose base is equal to that base of the frustum which is opposite to the base of the segment.

PROB. 10. By Joseph Morrison. Find the Moon's Parallax in AR for Toronto, when the equatorial horizontal parallax is $60' 04''$; the Moon's N. Dec. $24^\circ 40' 10''$; and the apparent hour-angle 60° ; the radius of the Earth at Toronto being 0.98844, equatorial radius being unity.

PROB. 11. By Gunner. In what latitude may a gun be fired at noon on the 21st of June so that its sound may be heard at noon at every station due west of the former?

PROB. 12. By Wm. Dunne. (See Prob. 9, Alm. 1858, p. 31.)

PROB. 13. By E. S. (See Prob. 12, Almanac, 1858, p. 31.)

the curve which touches them all, and compare the area swept out in its semispiral from the axis with the corresponding area of the cardioid.

PROB. 20. A solid right cylinder is joined on to a solid hemisphere of the same uniform substance, their bases being coincident. Find the height of the cylinder, compared with the radius of the hemisphere, in order that the construction may rest when placed with any point of the spherical surface in contact with a horizontal plane.

PROB. 21. A circular right cylinder is cut by a plane inclined at 45° to its axis; it is then scooped out into a hollow vessel and a lid (supposed to be without weight) is closely fitted to the elliptical section by a hinge at the lowest point, the cylinder standing with base horizontal and axis vertical. What is the density of the heaviest fluid with which the vessel can be quite full without causing the lid to be lifted—the pressure of the atmosphere being 15 lbs. to the square inch?

PROB. 22. A smooth, straight, thin tube is balancing horizontally about its middle point, and a particle whose weight is $\frac{1}{n}$ th that of the tube is shot into it horizontally with such a given velocity that it just arrives at the middle point of the tube. Find the angular velocity communicated to the tube.

MUNICIPALITIES, CANADA WEST.

In the following tables relating to the Municipalities of Canada West, the Editor has been obliged to omit the Assessed Value, and Amounts to be realized by Assessment Rate, they having been returned so imperfectly as to render the insertion valueless except as regards particular Municipalities. This omission arises from no unwillingness on the part of the proper authorities to afford the information required, but from the fact that the Assessment Rates are not returnable at a sufficiently early period to enable us to make use of them.

During the last Session of the Canadian Parliament, all previous Municipal laws were repealed and consolidated in one Act (22 Vic., cap. xcix), which now forms the basis of government of all Municipal Corporations. This Act, as also several other Acts relating to Municipalities generally, our publishers, Messrs. MACLEAR & Co., will re-produce as a MUNICIPAL MANUAL, under the editorship of ROBT. A. HARRISON, Esq., B.C.L., with notes of all decisions, and a comprehensive index, about the first of December, 1858. The work will be invaluable as a guide or hand-book to all interested in the management of Municipal affairs.

Upper Canada College.—Rev. Walter Stennett, M.A., Principal; Rev. Henry Scadding, D.D., First Classical Master; James Brown, M.A., Mathematical Master; William Wedd, M.A., Second Classical Master; Geo. M. Evans, M.A., Third Classical Master; C. W. Connon, LL.D., English Classical Master; Michael Barrett, M.A., M.D., First English Master, and Superintendent of College Boarding House; E. J. L. de St. Remy, LL.B., French Master; C. Thompson, Second English Master; J. Dodd, Commercial Master; Rev. E. Schluter, M.A., German Master; E. Bull, Drawing Master; A. Maul, Instrumental Music Master; ———, Gymnastics, Fencing, &c. In the eight Forms into which the College is divided, the pupils, besides being thoroughly grounded in Classics and Mathematics, receive progressive instruction in French, Natural Philosophy, Physical Geography, English Literature, English Composition, Elocution and Reading, Arithmetic, Geography, Book-keeping, Writing, &c. The lowest of these eight Forms is the Preparatory, into which boys generally enter at the age of eight or nine years. The instruction in this Form is only so far classical as the rudiments of Latin are concerned,—more than two-thirds of the time being devoted to the elements of an English education. In the First, or next higher Form, a little more time is given to Latin; and in the Second the elements of Greek and of Algebra are commenced. In the Third, and the Forms above it, Classics and Mathematics are gradually brought into more and more prominence, while the branches constituting an English education are advanced with equally careful precision. In the Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh Forms German forms a part of the regular course. Although provision is made for the attainment of a sound English education in what are called the Classical Forms, there is in addition an English Department, from which Classics only are excluded, the whole time being bestowed on the other subjects taught in the College, German forming also a part of the regular course of the higher Divisions. For the better cultivation of English Literature, Composition, and Elocution, in this Department and in the College Forms, a new mastership (the English Classical) has been created and recently filled up by the appointment of a gentleman whose reputation as an able master has been well established in public schools in England. Upper Canada College combines, therefore, all the advantages of a Commercial School, with facilities for obtaining a sound Classical training possessed by no other institution in the country. The College year commences with the Autumn Term. The Autumn Term begins Sept. 9; Winter do., Nov. 20; Spring do., Feb. 15; Summer do., May 1. Reports of the progress and conduct of the pupils are sent to parents at the end of each Term. Deducting the Vacations, the Terms arc ten weeks each. The Tuition Fee is $5, and the Boarding House Fee, $40 per Term. The many improvements made in the arrangement of the College Boarding House have been found to add very materially to the comfort of the boarders. A large paved Ball Court Gymnasium, fitted up with the most approved modern appliances and a spacious play-ground and cricket ground afford ample facilities for out-door exercise and amusement within the College bounds. The Boarding House is conducted strictly as an integral part of the Institution, its disbursements paid out of, and its returns paid into, the general funds. Prizes of books and certificates of honor are given every year to those who distinguish themselves in any of the subjects taught in the College. His Excellency the Governor General offers annually a valuable Prize of Books for the best examination in the higher departments of Classics and Mathematics. At the Annual Public Examination in July Exhibitions are competed for, varying in value from $100 to $20 per annum.

Competition for them all is open to the Grammar Schools of the whole Province. More than two thousand of the youth of the Province have received their education, in whole or in part, in Upper Canada College. It numbers now about 300 pupils. The Principal, the First, Second, and Third Classical Masters, and the Mathematical Master, were all of them pupils of the Institution; as were likewise the greater portion of the Medal-men, Scholars, and Honor men of our Universities.

RENSSELLAER POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE.

THE undersigned takes this method of presenting to the inhabitants of Canada the following explanatory statements concerning the Institution named in the above heading.

ITS ESTABLISHMENT.

This Institution was founded in 1824, by the late Hon. Stephen Van Rensselaer, as a School of Theoretical and Practical Science. In 1826 it received from the Legislature of the State of New York its Act of Incorporation, with those chartered authorities and privileges usually conveyed to the higher Educational Institutions of the United States.

In 1849 the Institute was re-organized, and in its new form, upon the basis of a general POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE. Among the changes then introduced were, a material enlargement of its course of study, with a proportionate increase of the time allotted to it, and a correspondingly more elevated and more rigidly held standard of requirements for the admission of Candidates to Graduation Honors.

ITS OBJECTS.

The Institution is designed for the education of ARCHITECTS, CIVIL, MINING, AND TOPOGRAPHICAL ENGINEERS, upon an enlarged basis, and with a liberal development of Mental and Physical culture.

Nevertheless, the educational course presented by the Institute, although especially designed to subserve the wants of the professional classes above mentioned, is intended to be not less available than useful to all others, whether contemplating a future professional career or not, who, appreciating and desiring such a course, are willing to submit to the discipline required for its successful accomplishment.

GRADUATION HONORS.

The Institute confers upon such as shall have been found duly entitled to these Honors, the Degrees of CIVIL ENGINEER, TOPOGRAPHICAL ENGINEER, BACHELOR OF SCIENCE, ETC., in accordance with the authority contained in the Bill of Chartered Rights and Privileges, granted by Legislative enactment.

WAIT FOR THE BEST!
WORCESTER'S QUARTO DICTIONARY.

This great work is rapidly approaching completion, and will we hope be ready for publication in May next. It will contain eighteen hundred pages.

In ORTHOGRAPHY, the work will represent the best usage both in this country and in England.

In the department of ETYMOLOGY this dictionary will be found to be more complete and satisfactory than any other work of the kind.

The DEFINITIONS will be fully and accurately discriminated, and distinguished by numbers, and exemplified whenever practicable, by citations from the best authors.

The ILLUSTRATIONS, by wood cuts, of which there are twelve hundred beautifully executed, will form another novel and useful feature of this Dictionary. There are many terms, the verbal explanation of which, however carefully made, will convey a much less correct idea of their meaning than a pictorial representation, and accordingly it is proposed to adopt this method of exemplifying the definitions in all such cases as seem to require it.

All who want an accurate, comprehensive and complete Dictionary of the English Language will

The object of this Company is to encourage the flow of capital to the soil of this Province. The Company is the receiver of such capital, which it then lends to the proprietors of the land, who repay the same by means of a sinking fund of 2 per cent., which extinguishes the debt in about 21 years.—The advantages to the borrower are,

1st He is enabled with great ease to borrow of the Company the sum he requires at a moderate rate of interest.

2nd. By borrowing of this Company there is no possibility of the borrower ever being called upon suddenly or unexpectedly to pay off the debt. When the money is borrowed he enters into a contract to pay a certain fixed sum yearly, in addition to the interest into a sinking fund, and the Company agrees with him that when the amount of these small sums, which bear compound interest equal the amount lent, his debt will be cancelled and his estate will have become entirely free. Experience has shown, under ordinary circumstances, that mortgage debts are rarely repaid in one sum all at once. The repayment is seldom if ever made until after a lapse of years, and then generally by a sale of the estate. This Company offers the borrower the great advantage of paying off his mortgage debt little by little, so that at the end of a certain definite time the estate will be his own, and once more through his own prudence and foresight entirely free. It is a Savings Bank for him, in which he can conveniently place a small annual saving to accumulate at interest and compound interest, and be the means eventually of paying off his debt. It cannot be expected that an individual lender will take any such trouble and agree to receive these small yearly or half-yearly instalments, nor will any borrower take the trouble of investing for himself a small annual payment for a great many years together with the interest as it accrued. The debt is expected by the lender, when paid, to be paid off in one sum or in several large sums. But what the borrower cannot do for himself, and what the lender will not do for him, will be done with the greatest ease by this Company.

3rd. The borrower, on giving notice, will be allowed to pay off his debt at any time, and the different sums he has paid to the sinking Fund, with compound interest will be reckoned in the account.—The advantages offered by this Company to the lender are reciprocal.

1st. The lender has the security of a number of estates collectively, together with the certainty of his interest being paid regularly to the day, without his ever having to seek after, annoy, or dispossess any individual. The Company alone being responsible to him.

2nd. The lender has no anxiety, care, or even thought, as to the character of any individual borrower, or of the value of the land mortgaged.

3rd. The security or debenture which he holds is a marketable commodity, easily transferred from hand to hand, so that he can convert it into money at any moment. If he had invested his money on the old mortgage system he could not do so.

4th. The Sinking Fund of the Company—whilst it makes the borrower feel that every year his debt is decreasing in amount, and secures to him in course of time perfect freedom from debt—is every day improving and making more effectual the security of the lender. There is daily, as it were, money accumulating to meet the sum advanced by the lender, and his security is, in consequence, more and more established.

A part of the capital will be raised in England. There are thousands there as well as in Canada, who will eagerly invest their surplus funds where there can be no risk, and where the interest is certain to be paid to the day. Capitalists advancing money on the security of productive land in a country prosperous beyond parallel, and where the monied institutions are upon a firm basis, have the highest and best security it is possible to give.

The accounts of the Company, which will be under the supervision of the Inspector General, will be made up and the dividend and interest paid half-yearly either in Toronto or London.

The interest paid to shareholders may fairly be expected to be from 7 to 8 per cent. Immediately; and, prospectively, the shareholders will participate in the profits either as a bonus or as an addition to their interest which careful calculation shows will then be at least 12 per cent.

It is not expected that more than $5 per share will be called up at any one time, and then only at long intervals.

A large number of the shares will be reserved for England, and for the remainder application can be made, post paid to the Agents or to the Secretary at the Office of the Company, where further information may be obtained.

This Association is one of the most extensive Life Assurance Offices in the World. During the last three years alone, there have been upwards of Three Thousand New Entrants, Assuring their Lives for nearly Two Million Pounds Sterling.

The Policy-Holders incur none of the risks of partnership. They are free from all responsibility, and the Sums Assured are Guaranteed.

All the regulations are framed on a liberal footing, and so as to afford the Assured every proper facility. The Association is, however, to be distinguished from nearly every other Assurance Office by its system of Dividing Profits amongst the Assured,—a system at once simple, safe, and equitable, and by which every Policy-Holder enjoys, during his own life, the share of profit allocated to him.

Prospectuses, Forms of Proposal, &c., may be had, gratis, on application, by letter or otherwise.

The PAIN KILLER is, by universal consent, allowed to have won for itself, a reputation unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. Its instantaneous effect in the entire eradication and extinction of PAIN in all its various forms incidental to the human family, and the unsolicited written and verbal testimony of the masses in its favour, have been, and are its own best advertisement.

The ingredients which enter into the PAIN KILLER, being PURELY VEGETABLE, render it a PERFECTLY SAFE and efficacious remedy taken internally, as well as for external applications, when used according to the directions. The slight stain upon linen from its use in external applications, is readily removed by washing with a little alcohol.

This medicine, so justly celebrated for the cure of so many of the afflictions incidental to the human family, has now been before the public about EIGHTEEN YEARS, and has found its way into almost every corner of the world; and wherever it has been used, the same opinion is expressed of its real medicinal properties.

In any attack where prompt action upon the system is required, the Pain Killer is invaluable. Its almost instantaneous effect in RELIEVING PAIN is truly wonderful, and when used according to directions is true to its name,

A PAIN KILLER.

It is, in truth, a FAMILY MEDICINE, and should be kept in every family for immediate use. Persons travelling should always have a bottle of this remedy with them. It is not unfrequently the case that persons are attacked with disease, and before medical aid can be procured, the patient is beyond the hope of recovery. Captains of vessels should always supply themselves with a few bottles of this remedy before leaving port, as by so doing they will always be in possession of an invaluable remedy to resort to in cases of accidents and sudden attacks of sickness. It has been used in

SEVERE CASES OF THE CHOLERA,

And never has failed in a single case, where it was thoroughly applied on the first appearance of the symptoms.

Obtain a copy of the PEOPLES' PAMPHLET, which contains full directions for using the Pain Killer, together with a brief sketch of the first introduction of the medicine, and Recommendatory Notices, Certificates, &c., &c.

The present form (adopted July 1, 1854,) in which the Pain Killer is put up, is a flat panel bottle, (four sizes) with the words "DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER" blown in the glass, on one side of which is a miniature likeness of Perry Davis, the original inventor of the medicine; on the opposite our note of hand, to counterfeit which is held to be forged by the laws of the United States. These labels are finely executed steel engravings, and the increased cost attending the execution and printing of the same, is incurred for the protection of the public against counterfeits to which a less expensive style is liable.

To those who have so long used and proved the merits of our article, we would say that we shall continue to prepare our Pain Killer of the best and purest materials, and that it shall be every way worthy of their approbation as a family medicine.

Prices, 12½ Cents, 25 Cents, 50 Cents and $1 per Bottle.

Beware of Counterfeits put up in the Old Style.

NOTICE TO DEALERS IN THE PAIN KILLER.

The name and trade mark "PAIN KILLER," belongs exclusively to the proprietors of this medicine. That right has been sustained by courts of law, and any person found selling an article by that name, and not from the manufactory of Perry Davis & Son, will be prosecuted.

The Pain Killer is sold by all respectable Druggists throughout the United States and British Provinces in America, also by Agents in Foreign Countries, whose names are to be found on the Peoples' Pamphlet.

Thus at all ages from 19 to 60, on the earliest Policies, the Accumulated Bonuses now range from upwards of £44 per cent. to upwards of £140 per cent. of the sums originally insured; and in one instance to upwards of 242 per cent., or nearly two and one-half times more than the sum assured.

Tolater Entrants the results are, in proportion, equally satisfactory; the Bonus now declared on all Participating Policies of the last seven years' endurance, averaging upwards of one and one-half per cent. per annum of the sums assured, and the gradually-advancing rate of Bonus, as exhibited under each succeeding Declaration, affords the fairest prospect to all present and future Insurers, that these will be maintained, until they also shall derive equally high benefits, when they rank as the oldest Policy holders of the Company.

An Intermediate Bonus, between one Investigation and another, affords all the advantages that may be supposed to accrue from Annual Divisions.

Bonuses may be applied in reduction of Annual Premiums, or the Cash Value received.

Liberal Resolutions connected with the conditions of the Policies of this Office make them in every respect a sound, negotiable document, and in all Insurances for Family Provisions, or otherwise, to protect the interests of Representatives, it may confidently be maintained that in no other Life Institution can higher benefits be derived by all first-class lives.

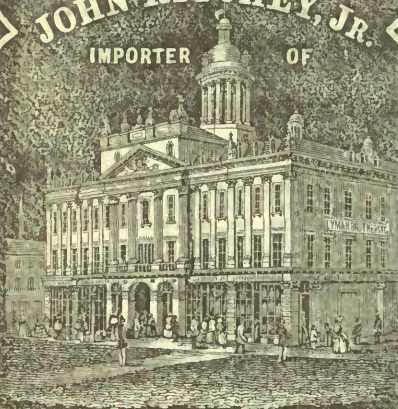

Prospectus, and Printed Forms of the Proposal and Declaration for effecting an Insurance, may be had Gratis, at the Head Office, or from any of the Company's Agents.

Rates of Premium on the Non-Participating Scale, extremely moderate, and well adapted for all Insurances connected with Money Transactions.

Dr. French has the honor of publishing the following recommendations from Dr. Harris of Baltimore, the Lord Bishop of Toronto, Rev. Dr. Lett, and Lieut. A. P. Douglas.

BALTIMORE, August 5th, 1855.

To the Citizens of Toronto:

I take great pleasure in introducing to the public my friend, M. D. FRENCH, M.D., and graduate of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. I have been acquainted with Dr. FRENCH about five years, a considerable portion of which time he has assisted me in practice. He is a gentleman of irreproachable moral character, a thoroughly educated Dentist, and practically skilled in every department of his profession; I therefore recommend him with entire confidence to all who may require the services of a Dentist.

CHAPIN A. HARRIS, A.M., M.D., D.D.S.,
Professor—Baltimore College of Dental Surgery.

TORONTO, October 18th, 1856.

The best recommendation that I can give of Dr. M. D. FRENCH, Surgeon Dentist, is, that he has been employed in this family, and given much satisfaction.

JOHN TORONTO.

I have had occasion to visit Dr. FRENCH, for the purpose of availing myself of his professional skill. I have every reason to be perfectly satisfied with the manner in which he treated me. In fact I never met a Dentist who performs an operation, at best unpleasant, with such gentleness and efficacy.

STEPHEN LETT, St. George's.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE, Toronto, Jan. 15th, 1857.

Dr. M. D. FRENCH, Surgeon Dentist, has both Extracted and Stopped Teeth for me with perfect success, and with less pain to myself than I thought possible.

Dr. F. has also the honor of referring to the following gentleman:—

THE GREAT AMBASSADOR OF HEALTH TO ALL MANKIND.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.

THE want of a Sterling Medicinal to meet the ills and necessities of the suffering portion of humanity, and one entirely free from Mineral and other deleterious particles, was severely felt till this all-powerful Medicine was ushered into the World.—HOLLOWAY'S INVALUABLE PILLS have become the HOUSEHOLD REMEDY of all Nations. Their attribute is TO PREVENT as well as TO CURE: they attack the RADIX or ROOT of the complaint, and thus by removing the hidden cause of disease, re-invigorate and restore the drooping energies of the system, assisting nature in her task of VITAL and FUNCTIONARY REFORMATION.

SICKLY FEMALES

Should lose no time in trying a few doses of this regulating and renovating remedy, whatever may be their complaint, it can be taken with safety in all periodical and other disorganizations its effect is all but miraculous.

UNREFUTED PROOF.

The testimony of Nations is unanimously borne to the health-giving virtues of this noble remedy and certificates in every living language bear witness to the UNDENIABLENESS of their INTRINSIC WORTH.

THE OINTMENT.

The free admissions of all Nations, as well as the verdict of the leading Hospitals of the Old, as well as the New World, stamp this powerful remedial Agent as the greatest healing preparation ever made known to suffering man. Its PENETRATIVE QUALITIES are more than MARVELLOUS, through the external orifices of the skin, invisible to the naked eye, it reaches the seat of the internal disease; and in all external affections its anti-inflammatory and healing virtues surpass anything else on record, and is Nature's great ally.

ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its modus operandi is first to eradicate the venom, and then complete the cure.

BAD LEGS, OLD SORES, AND ULCERS.

Cases of many years standing that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome Reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the Medicines, or vending the same knowing them to be spurious.

* * * Sold at the Manufactories of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and 244 Strand, London, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine throughout the United States, and the civilized World, at 25 cents, 63 cents, and $1 each, per pot or box.

There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder affixed to each box.

DR. HOOFLAND'S CELEBRATED GERMAN BITTERS,

WILL EFFECTUALLY CURE

Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver or Stomach,

Such as Constipation, Inward Piles, Fullness or Blood to the head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and great Depression of Spirits.

The Proprietors, in calling the attention of the public to this preparation, to do so with a feeling of the utmost confidence in its virtues and adaption to the diseases for which it is recommended.

It is no new and untried article, but one that has stood the test of a ten years' trial before the American people, and its reputation and sale are unrivalled by any similar preparation extant. The testimony in its favor given by prominent and well-known Physicians and individuals in all parts of the country is immense, and a careful perusal of the Almanac, published annually by the proprietor, and to be had gratis of any of his Agents, cannot but satisfy the most skeptical that this remedy is really deserving the great celebrity it has obtained.

DR. HOOFLAND'S BALSAMIC CORDIAL,

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Croup, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Diseases of the Bowels arising from Cold, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief and (if at all possible) cure of Patients in advanced stages of the latter disease.

This celebrated preparation, like the Bitters, may be confidently relied on. It is designed for a class of diseases more general and more fatal than any other to which the people of this country are subject—those springing from a "slight cold." That eminent authority, Dr. Bell, says: "I will not say that Colds are to our inhabitants what the Plague and Yellow Fever are to those of other countries; but, I can aver confidently that they usher in disease of greater complexity and mortality than these later."

A further proof of the terrible fatality of diseases resulting from a "common cold" may be seen by a glance at the following statistics, taken from the records of the Board of Health of Philadelphia, confessedly one of the most healthy localities in the Union:—

1852. Total deaths in Philadelphia,.....	10,261	1853. Total deaths,.....	9,749
Died of Consumption,.....	1,912	Died of Consumption,.....	1,895
" " all other diseases (250 in number),.....	8,349	" " all other diseases,.....	7,854
	10,261		9,749
1854. Total deaths,.....
Died of Consumption,.....		11,814
" " all other diseases,.....		2,178
			9,636
			11,814

From these figures, it will be seen that nearly one fourth of the total deaths in the country are caused by consumption to say nothing of the numerous other diseases springing from a "slight cold."

Do not trifle with your health; but, if suffering from a cough, or cold on the lungs, buy a bottle of HOOFLAND'S BALSAMIC CORDIAL, and you may safely count on a cure. Thousands have done so, and have certified to its wonderful effects.

Coughs sometimes proceed from a disordered or dyspeptic state of the stomach, in which case the German Bitters should be used. In cases of weakness, or general debility of the system, resulting from a protracted cough, the German Bitters will be found of great benefit.

Prepared only by DR. C. M. JACKSON, 418 Arch Street Philadelphia, and for sale by Druggists and Storekeepers throughout the United States and Canada. Price 75 cents per Bottle.

For Sale Wholesale and Retail by all the druggists in Canada. Wholesale Agents.—HUGH MILLER, Toronto; LYMAN, SAVAGE & CO., Montreal; J. MUSSON & CO., Quebec; J. WINE & CO., Hamilton; E. W. PALMER, Kingston.
